SCHOOL BOARD DROPS LOCAL SCHOOL TEACHER

Asked Resignation of J. Joseph O'Donoghue of the Industrial School—No Choice for Principal of Edson School

Dr. Lambert and Mr. Simpson of the school board have found a man whom they consider fitted for principal of the Edson school, but they are not yet ready to divulge his name or to vote for him. They said so at last night's meeting of the school board. The board failed to elect a principal last night. Two ballots were taken. Mr. Calise voted for John F. McManis, Messrs. Campbell and Thompson for Christopher Hagan; Messrs. Lambert and Simpson not voting. Mr. Campbell said he thought it was high time a principal was elected to that school and allowed that if the Edson school could get along without a master, other grammar schools in the city might do likewise.

The committee voted to drop J. Joseph O'Donoghue from the teaching staff of the Industrial school. This action was taken upon recommendation of the Industrial school committee and the state board of education. Mr. Campbell objected to the procedure. He asked for Lambert if he had anything in black and white from the state board and Dr. Lambert replied that Principal Fisher of the Industrial school had received a letter. But Mr. Campbell said he was from Missouri and wanted to be shown.

Chairman Lambert called to order at 8:20 and the clerk read detailed reports of two previous meetings. The chairman read a report of the committee on Industrial school recommending that J. Joseph O'Donoghue be dropped from the list of Industrial school teachers and that Maurice Rutledge, who has been substituting, be appointed a temporary teacher.

"If I remember rightly," said Mr. Campbell, "Mr. O'Donoghue is the same teacher who was granted a hearing last year after having been discharged or suspended."

REBEL LEADERS WILL KEEP "HANDS OFF"

Administration and Navy Dept. Ready for any Eventualities—Peace Session Continues—Gen. Huerta Releases all Foreign Prisoners—Americans Maltreated in Mexico

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The administration and the navy department conferred today about plans to meet any eventualities in the Mexican situation but their movements were overshadowed by the interest evinced in the work of the representatives of the South American republics who are trying to straighten out the situation. A report today that Carranza and Villa, the constitutionalist leaders, had agreed to remain neutral in dealings between Huerta and the American government so long as there was no invasion of their territory was an encouraging development. News that American Consul Schmitz and 110 other Americans who had been detained at Aguascalientes by federal soldiers had been released and were safe in Mexico City on their way to Vera Cruz was a relieving feature of a tense situation created by previous reports that citizens of the United States had been subjected to persecution. Refugees continued to arrive at Vera Cruz from the Huerta capital and special trains today were to pick up additional foreigners between Mexico City and the coast. The transport Hancote was sent from Vera Cruz to Puerto to take away refugees arriving from the interior by the Tehuantepec railroad to Galveston.

News of the continued constitutionalist attack on Tampico was received at the navy department today. Rear Admiral Maynor stated, however, that there did not seem to be any serious attempt to take the city. He said the number of constitutionalists around was small and that they did not have any artillery.

The super dreadnought New York flagship of the new special service squadron, took on coal at Hampton Roads yesterday and resumed her run for Mexican waters today. She carried some marines.

HUERTA TO RELEASE ALL FOREIGNERS

VERA CRUZ, April 29.—Commander Tweddle of the British cruiser Essex, who went to Mexico City several days ago to intercede for foreigners held in the capital returned here late yesterday and reported that his mission had been successful.

President Huerta, Minister of War Blanquet and Foreign Minister Rojas assured Tweddle they would release all foreign prisoners and let all Americans a desirable to do so leave via Puerto Mexico but that the trains on which they would go would not be provided with escorts.

The train on which Commander Tweddle came back to Vera Cruz, picked up one hundred American refugees from various interior points who were assembled at Salidad.

190 MEN ENTOMBED, 11 KNOWN DEAD, 16 RESCUED

As Result of Explosion in One Mine Yesterday — Imprisoned Miners Given up as Lost — The Rescued Men Severely Burned

ECCLLES, W. Va., April 29.—One hundred and ninety men entombed and given up as lost, eleven known dead and 16 rescued—this was the result of the explosion which wrecked mine number five and damaged mine number six of the New River Collieries Co. here late yesterday. Governor Hatfield of West Virginia is in charge of the relief work while Earl Henry, chief of the state department of mines and H. C. Bayles, general manager of the collieries company are leading the rescue crews.

The entrances to the mines are far apart but the workings join under ground. When the dust exploded in mine number five the fumes entered No. 6 shaft and there the 11 known dead were killed. Prompt measures taken by Supt. Donaldson resulted in the rescue of 61 from number six shaft. Many of those rescued are burned severely and improvised hospitals here and at Beckley are crowded. When it was found shaft number five was burning the entrance was closed and the entrances to number six workings were bratticed. The task of finding the bodies in number five shaft must wait until the flames have been extinguished.

General Manager Bayles at midnight said he believed the 190 men known to be in number five were dead. This belief is also accepted by mining experts who rushed here last night and by the natives of the entombed men. It is not believed one man in number five escaped alive as the sudden explosion was followed quickly by outbursts of flames.

Most of the miners are American born, although there are quite a number of foreign born workers. Of the bodies recovered eight were white Americans, one negro and two foreign born.

Many of those rescued said they were overcome by the gas fumes before they knew what had happened. The first

CASE OF HOLIAN

For Alleged Larceny of Auto Fittings Continued Today

John J. Holian, of Revere, Mass., was arraigned before Judge Knight in police court this forenoon charged with breaking, entering and larceny in the nighttime from the garage of Frank A. Casey on River street, Billerica. The defendant is accused of stealing tires, tubes, batteries, a fur coat, a light coat and several articles, the whole valued at $250. Holian entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until May 12 so that the police would have an opportunity to recover some of the articles.

Edward J. Shannon, secretary of Local 31, International Order of Bricklayers, was charged with the larceny of $120 from the funds of the union. Edward J. Tierney appeared for the government and at his request the case was continued for one week.

John J. Smith, who paid a fine for drunkenness in police court yesterday was back in the docket when Clerk Trull called the roll this forenoon. Smith claimed that he did not touch liquor of any kind yesterday but had not completely recovered from his drunk of the previous day. He pleaded for another chance and was allowed to go he would leave the city and not be found on the streets again. The defendant was placed on probation for six months and a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction was ordered. James A. Cunningham made his fourth appearance within a year for being unable to discontinue partaking of intoxicants but he promised to turn over a new leaf and he was given a suspended sentence to the Lowell jail. Thomas Scollan was sent to jail for ten days for drunkenness.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Henry, who is employed at the Talbot mills, has decided not to go to Mexico.

The president of the Natomis club has issued a proclamation against the dance at their dance Friday night.

"Dick" Morrison who is employed as a weaver at the Biscow Carpet company, has plans completed for a trip to Ireland in June.

Joseph Toubes, the well known carpet weaver and all round athlete, claims he knows how to fight as well as weave.

Daniel Roberts, a jolly weaver at the Biscow Carpet company, has lost a wager on good looks to his rival George Star. To make good he must not shave for three weeks.

The many friends of Patrick Kearns will be pleased to learn that he has returned to work after being confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle. Mr. Kearns is a much respected weaver at the Biscow Carpet company.

The clerks employed in the stores of N. H., after extensive deliberation, have concluded to perfect an organization with the purpose of clearing the time of opening and closing of the various establishments in that town.

The "Violet club" held a most successful dance last night at Lincoln hall. The young ladies of this club are employed in the local mills and factories. They say that the little women in "Among the Toilers" helped materially.

The employees of the Saco-Lowell shop will be given a holiday Saturday. The reason given out was to give all the men an opportunity to visit the textile exhibition in Boston. Free tickets will be given to the employees by the management. Members desiring these tickets should apply to the superintendent.

William "Blunker" Harrington, the well known member of the Plumbers' union, has accepted a job in Manchester, N. H. He was formerly employed in that city, and his old boss couldn't get along without him. His pal, Frank "Tub" Gookin, is working in Boston, where his services are always in demand.

There will be a chance for all mill employees to inspect Lowell's famous Textile school on May 6, which will be graduation day. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock, and all who can should avail themselves of this opportunity to go through a great institution of learning for, besides being interesting it will be instructive.

Street Railway Men's Union

The Street Railway Men's union met in their hall in the tunnels building last night and business of importance was transacted. The secretary's report showed progress and the financial condition on a sound basis. Plans for a complimentary party to their many friends, particularly those who assisted in the recent Saunders contest, were made, and the affair pronounced interesting.

GOVERNOR WALSH WINS

Succeeds in Having Adj.-Gen. Pearson Ousted—Sen. Fisher Led Fight Against Governor

The bill which gives Governor Walsh the right to oust Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson and appoint his successor went through the senate yesterday afternoon to a third reading, by a vote of 22 to 17. Senator Edward Fisher led the fight against the bill.

The measure will immediately be put through its other stages and sent to the governor for his approval. Mr.

Walsh is said to favor the appointment of Ex-Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole, if Colonel Cole will accept the place. The appointment will be made without delay.

The debate was warm and lasted all the afternoon.

uses to be a great success.

Carpenters Met

The Carpenters' union, local 42, met in Carpenters hall in the Rundle building, last evening, with President Joseph E. Sears in the chair. Business of considerable importance was transacted. Five new members were admitted. A communication was read from a Mr. Wilson, the head of a building firm in Boston, asking for a dozen men in a hurry, but this local could not supply the demand, or others that they have received because all the members are steadily employed here in Lowell.

The carpenters in Lowell secure 45 cents an hour, and in Boston 55 cents an hour. The membership is steadily increasing, from two to seven new members being admitted every meeting.

The carpenters are much pleased with the space afforded them in Tuesday night's "Sun" and say that this paper has one of the best labor papers in this state.

Labor News from Boston

The Builders' union has voted to seek a new agreement with their employers. Better wages, after eight hours will be asked. The four unions of bookbinders in the greater Boston district are discussing amalgamation. Sentiment seems to favor the plan. The New England Electrical Workers' district council has ordered its affiliated locals to ask the various central bodies to insist on the enforcement of all life and property. The appalling loss of life and property, because of inefficient electrical installation, regulation and inspection stirred the delegates to action. Protested by the Sanitary Teamsters and Helpers' union against violations of the eight-hour law are bringing results. The state board of industry and labor has filed complaints in court against several firms. At the last meeting of State and Operating Engineers' union, President James W. Adams, Jr., has decided to launch an organizing campaign. The Lumber Teamsters and Helpers' union is conferring with their employers on a new wage scale. Machinists' union, No. 261, has established a sick benefit fund. Benefits will be paid for ten weeks and bonus for certain forms of extended illness. Steamfitters' and Helpers' union, affiliated to the Plumbers' International union, has adopted a wage scale of $2 a day for mechanics and $3 a day for helpers after Aug. 1. Elevator operators' union has succeeded in making their new scale universal except in two instances.

L. W. Was Indignant

Says the Lawrence Sun. The L. W. W. forces are particularly Joseph H. Downer, the organizer here. He is in this city, feel somewhat aggrieved and wrought up over the ultimatum sent out Saturday by Commissioner of Public Safety James W. Cagney, that there shall be no L. W. W. parade in Lowell.

ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

All Over Face, Arms and Hands—Would Walk the Floor All Night

Dec. 8, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on my chin when I was but 13 years old and am now 33, and have suffered all these years. It started with small blisters all over my face, arms and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. I had to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I couldn't sleep at all; they were so itchy that I would walk the floor all night long."

"I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Ointment, and three jars of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mr. H. E. Fleager, Box 13, Danbury, Pa.

mand of the employees of the Milwaukee and Boston road for an increase in wages.

At a recent session of the arbitration board, Arthur M. Houlahan of the Boston road presented wage tables showing that mechanics and artisans employed within a radius of fifty miles of Boston receive from thirty-three to fifty per cent more pay than do the employees of the Milwaukee road.

Among the interests at the hearing was Thomas Houlahan, barn-man at the North car barns.

Houlahan testified that it was his duty to examine the cars at the North car barns for defects and to make repairs. He said that upon the barn men respects the life or death of the passengers, although the public does not appreciate this fact. If anything goes wrong with a car while it is out on the track, the blame is laid on the barn men and not on the defect. The barn men have to understand the equipment of the cars. He described in detail his work in the car barn and said that he had to do much heavy lifting. He does some blacksmithing, carpenter work and some machine work.

Mr. Houlahan said that the condition of the cars was very bad. Cars would come into the barn and just as soon as they would be out on the track, they would be in the shop. He would have to work in the pits with the nothing now and would be out on the track in a few minutes. He said that the barn men were not paid enough for their work. BROTHER PETER'S JUBILEE

TRIBUTE TO ZEALOUS MEMBER OF THE XAVIERIAN ORDER—GOV.
WALSH CONGRATULATES HIM

The recent celebration held at St. John's preparatory school in Danvers, in honor of the 50th anniversary of Brother Peter's entrance to the Xavierian Brotherhood brought many tributes to his zealous career as a teacher. Among those who were present to congratulate him were: Gov. David I. Walsh, Hon. Frank J. Donahue, secretary of state; Attorney A. N. Dooley of Lawrence, Hon. William A. McSweeney of Salem, Rev. F. W. Malley of Danvers and Brother Isidore provincial of the Xavierian Brothers.

The reverend brother is well known in Lowell in connection with the local branch of the order.

Brothers of the order were present from East Boston, Somerville, Newton, Lowell, Lawrence, Manchester, N. H., Worcester, Newark, N. J., Deep River, Conn., and Milbury, Mass. About 50 were in attendance.

Rev. Fr. O'Reilly of Lawrence delivered the jubilee sermon and many clergymen attended the solemn high mass.

The following was written by Brother Placidus in St. John's Concordia, a book published at the college:

Brother Peter, the oldest living member of the Xavierian brotherhood in the United States, was born in Silvermine, County Tipperary, Ire., Jan. 10, 1837. At the age of 20 he emigrated to the United States and settled in Cincinnati. He resided in that city for some years, when feeling a desire to devote himself to the work of Christian education he applied for admission into the Xavierian congregation, which had been recently established in Louisville, and was accepted as a postulant March 23, 1861.

The brothers at that time had charge of most of the parochial schools of the city. Many of them were located at a great distance from the brothers' residence and the journey to and from school, always on foot, must have been at times extremely wearisome. Add to this, the inconveniences which they had to contend with, owing to a lack of proper school equipment, and we have some idea of the privations which Brother Peter and his companions underwent one-half century ago.

His postulanship finished, he was assigned to St. John's parochial school in the eastern end of the city. Here he remained for five years, when he was transferred to the school connected with the Cathedral of the Assumption, on Fourth avenue, where he remained until 1876.

In the latter year he was called to Baltimore to assist at St. Joseph's college, but recently purchased. He found him for the next four years in the vicinity of Baltimore. In 1880 he was sent of four sent to establish an orphanage at West Troy, N. Y. The West Troy institution had to be relinquished after one year, and Brother Peter was again selected as a pioneer, this time to take over the Cathedral school in Richmond, Va., which, previous to this, had been taught by the diocesan clergy and seminarians. He remained in Richmond for four years, at the end of which time he was introduced to New England, being transferred to St. Patrick's school, Lowell. His sojourn here was also limited to four years, being then transferred to St. Mary's school, Lawrence. From 1888 to 1891, a period of 13 years, Brother Peter remained in Lawrence, and his name is, perhaps, more closely identified with the latter city than it is with any other place where he has been.

His winning personality, attracted to him a host of real friends, while his zealous work in behalf of the children of the parish won the lasting gratitude of the local clergy. In 1891, his superior, justly thinking that his sterling religious character would act as an inspiration to the younger members of the order, called him to the mother house at Baltimore to act as assistant to the master of novices. We find him later at St. Vincent's academy, Newport News, Va., then at St. Mary's industrial school, Baltimore, where he had charge of the junior department, and finally at St. John's, where we trust he may be permitted to remain until he is called to his well merited reward.

Brother Peter's life has been an extremely useful one. His admirable tact in the management of young children has made him wonderfully successful in this department. His care of them did not merely confine itself to the inculcating of the three R's, but education with him has always been understood in its fullest sense. Personal habits of order and cleanliness have been traits which he has always demanded from his pupils. They can testify how successful he has been in obtaining desired results along these lines.

Not alone to the class room have Brother Peter's activities been confined. Energetic by nature, his leisure hours have always been spent in some work that would be of benefit to the community. The writer has often thought that a proper title under which he might be canonized would be "Apostle of Cleanliness." Even now, though nominally on the retired list, his days are spent in constant activity. Old age has not changed his naturally cheerful disposition. This quality, united with genuine simplicity of manners and deep piety, has endeared him to all who know him.

To conclude we may very aptly apply to him the words of the poet, Halleck:

"To know him was to love him,
To name him was to praise."
His life, from a worldly standpoint, has been eventful. His name will not

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

A crook's heroism has been made the excuse for many a "sob story," but "Through Fire to Fortune," while dealing with that element which may so easily be converted from paths to paths, is a film with a large amount of human interest and a happy ending which all are glad to see because it is the natural one. This diverted Robin masterpiece which will be shown for the first time at the Opera House today is a drama filled with intense moments and incidents of a dramatic quality which sends the vibratory emotion waves up and down the spinal columns of all auditors. The story is well staged, well acted, and well photographed, and a more thoroughly artistic production would be hard to find.

MRS. FISKE

A most refreshing contribution to the season's theatrical attractiveness will be found in Mrs. Fiske's presentation of "Mrs. Hampstead-Leigh," which is to be given at the Opera House on Saturday evening next. The play is a broad comedy with a vein of satire and in the title role provides Mrs. Fiske with a character not only unique and new to the stage, but one totally dissimilar to any other which has ever enlisted the gifts of the leaders of the American stage. The play is a serious comedy, and it seems almost like an artistic holiday for Mrs. Fiske who plays the role with a zest and abandon that only a complete personal delight in it could dictate. She first appeared in the role of the social bouncer three years ago and has frequently done so since then, but her coming engagement will mark her first presentation of the ludicrous farce in Lowell.

KEITH'S THEATRE

The Six Kirkenth Sisters, appearing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, are of the distinctive English type, fair haired, blue eyed, little, some lassies. And their act is just as distinctive as they are. The six are exceedingly versatile, playing on a variety of instruments and singing numbers of songs well. Their dressing will make instantaneous appeal to women who attend. Wilbur Mack and Nella Walker in "An Every Day Occurrence in Central Park" have the best conversational vehicle seen this season. The duo are well groomed and have all of the earmarks of refinement. Their patter is far removed from the usual sort. Altogether they constitute one of the real hits of the bill. "Travelling," a farce, in which the Hopkins-Axtell company appear, has some new situations in it, and the Herbert-Germantown trio of comedy casters do a hour-stopping long-tail-loop finish. The Harmony Girls, Chief Teneboc, Eschell and Cooper and the Pathe Weekly pictures constitute the remainder of the bill. Phone 25.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The members of the Lowell New England League baseball club will be the guests of the management of the Merrimack Square theatre at the "Baseball Night" tonight. The league will occupy boxes. It is expected that all of the real baseball fans of the city will be present to make the occasion a most enjoyable one for all. The Merrimack Square theatre players will present "His Last Dollar," a wonderful race track drama in five parts which promises to score one of the biggest successes of the past few seasons. For the week commencing May 1 the offering will be "The Divorce Question," an intensely interesting drama that deals with the evils of divorce and shows the treatment of it by the Roman Catholic church. It has many strong scenes, all of which will be presented in the same pleasing manner that has marked the efforts of The Players in the past. Secure your seats in advance by telephoning 2053. It costs no more.

AT THE OWL THEATRE

Another big eight reel program will be given at the Owl today and tomorrow with a special Warner feature in three parts as the leading photo-play. "The Bogus Millionaire" tells of a blackmail scheme that failed. It is a powerful drama, finely acted by a picked cast of silent drama artists. The snappy action and the stage setting make this feature one of the best ever shown at this popular theatre. In connection the five other reels on the program are all first-shown subjects. Comedy and drama will be found in abundance. "The Perils of Pauline," "The Mutual Girl," the Pathe weekly and many other favorites are here for Friday and Saturday. The mirror screen is a great favorite of the patrons.

THE KASINO

Miner's orchestra is booked for the entire season at the Kasino. This means a lot to Lowell amusement circles, for it means a constant source of dancing happiness to the people of Lowell and all along the Merrimack valley. Music, of course, is the first requisite to dancing, but the Kasino offers in addition a great hall, a smooth surface and every comfort that comes from careful supervision.

TEACHERS ENTER PROTEST

Against Action of the Municipal Council in Cutting Down School Appropriation

The local teachers' organization has sent the following to the municipal council:

To the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, Gentlemen:

In view of the recent action of the school committee of Lowell in stating that, owing to the decrease in the appropriation for school purposes, it may be necessary to make a reduction of 1-1/2 per cent in the salaries of all employees of the school department, the teachers of the city, who are not only responsible for the maintenance of the schools, but also for the welfare of the children, feel that an unjust discrimination has been made against this important department of the city's administration.

At the beginning of 1914, the school committee was asked to make the lowest possible estimate for the year. After the most careful consideration, the estimate was placed at $450,000, the same as the appropriation for 1913, notwithstanding the fact that additional expense must be incurred this year in providing for:

1. Increased number of pupils in schools due to natural growth of population.
2. The number of pupils between 14 and 16, sent from work into the schools.
3. Additional expense of maintenance of industrial work in day and evening schools.
4. Increased number of pupils in the high school, necessitating considerable additional outlay.
5. Some necessary increase of salaries for years of service according to schedule.

With this lowest estimate of $450,000, the teachers' organization has made in good faith by the school committee, but $450,000 was granted, and the teachers, hardly felt warranted in applying to them to reconsider their recent action upon the salary reduction, realizing that, owing to the opinion recently rendered by the city solicitor and confirmed by the attorney general that by the terms of the city charter no department may exceed its appropriation, the members of the committee find themselves in an extremely difficult position. Therefore, do we vigorously protest against the action of the municipal council in reducing by $8000 the resources of the school department, thereby materially jeopardizing the efficiency of the schools and the welfare of the children.

If, in the interests of the city, it is necessary to economize and to decrease expenditures, we as city employees, will cheerfully bear our share of the burden, but we do most decidedly object to having a disproportionate share of this burden laid upon the school department, especially when at about the same time this action was being considered, certain city employees were granted an increase in pay.

Taking all these facts into consideration, it is not surprising that there is a general feeling of dissatisfaction among all the employees of the school department, and we protest, not altogether because of a possible loss in salary, but because of the principle involved.

Very respectfully,
The Lowell Teachers' Organization,
By Elizabeth C. Kennedy, President.

The teachers wondered why their letter was not read at the meeting. The matter received the attention of the organization this afternoon.

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the (late) Father's residence of the immaculate Conception church this afternoon at 2 p. m., when Mr. William J. Enright and Miss Ella M. McQuaid were united in marriage. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Owen McQuaid, O. M. I., a cousin of the bride. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McQuaid, in Rogers street, where supper was served. The happy couple left for New York on an extended honeymoon at 4 p. m. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white foulard and wore a white picture hat. She carried a large bouquet of American beauty roses.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The school board will meet this evening to call for a principal for the school. It was rumored this afternoon that there was a possibility of John P. Mehan withdrawing from the fight and that Commissioner Calise, a Mehan man, would vote for Christopher Hagan for principal. This would assure Mr. Hagan's election as he already has two votes. But rumors are not reliable.

GOOD ARREST MADE

A man named John J. Holian, aged about 23 years, of 33 Reservoir avenue, Revere, was arrested this afternoon at 252 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, by Chief Martin Conway of the Billerica police and brought to the local police station, where he was held, with breaking, entering and larceny from the garage of Frank Chase, of River street, Billerica.

The arrest followed some clever detective work on the part of the Billerica police and one of the officers of three blocks which are owned by his father and located at 252 Massachusetts avenue, Boston. In one of these blocks there is a garage conducted by a William Hathaway where Mr. Holian keeps his automobile. This forenoon the garage was visited by Chief Conway and Mr. Chase, proprietor of the Billerica garage and one of the officers taken from Billerica was found on the car. Holian could not account for the time and told the police that his machine was stolen Saturday night and returned sometime Sunday morning. At the time of going to press none of the other articles was recovered, but it is believed that more arrests will follow.

MERRIMACK RIVER BILL$1,000,000 Appropriation for Merrimack River Improvement
Meets With General Favor—
Hearing at State House Today

Another rousing hearing on the bill asking for an appropriation of $1,000,000 by the state for the development of the Merrimack river was held before the committee on ways and means at the state house this afternoon. There were delegates present from Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Newburyport and other places along the Merrimack river and the attendance was so large that it was necessary to move from the way and means committee room to a larger hearing room. Everybody present was in favor of the proposition to improve the Merrimack river by making it navigable from Lowell to the sea, and it was said by speakers from the different cities and towns in the Merrimack river valley that they had not heard a dissenting voice to the proposition.

One of the features of the hearing was the appearance of Mr. Whiston Kittredge of Lawrence, representing the American Woolen company. Mr. Kittredge said that the American Woolen Co. was heartily in favor of the proposition to improve the Merrimack river and he sincerely hoped that the plan would be put through successfully. He said that the mills of the American Woolen Co. in Lawrence consume 12,000 tons of coal and if the company was able to have its coal water-borne it would mean a saving of from $50,000 to $100,000 a year. He said he had talked with the company's engineers and was satisfied that the proposed plan for the development of the Merrimack river would not interfere with the company's water power rights. He thought the proposed plan of improvement would work to the advantage of all of the manufacturing cities in the Merrimack valley.

There was a large delegation present from Lowell and all of the local representatives of the Merrimack river valley. Mr. Fisher, who is now on record as being heartily in favor of the proposition, $500,000 in city government representation was concerned. Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport had all over Lowell. There were many and all of the city government was not represented. One of the features of the hearing was the appearance of Mr. Whiston Kittredge of Lawrence, representing the American Woolen company. Mr. Kittredge said that the American Woolen Co. was heartily in favor of the proposition to improve the Merrimack river and he sincerely hoped that the plan would be put through successfully. He said that the mills of the American Woolen Co. in Lawrence consume 12,000 tons of coal and if the company was able to have its coal water-borne it would mean a saving of from $50,000 to $100,000 a year. He said he had talked with the company's engineers and was satisfied that the proposed plan for the development of the Merrimack river would not interfere with the company's water power rights. He thought the proposed plan of improvement would work to the advantage of all of the manufacturing cities in the Merrimack valley.

Others to speak in favor of the bill included Chairman Sargent of the Haverhill board of trade, Alderman Joseph of Haverhill, County Commissioner Moody Kimball of Newburyport, Ralph S. Carr, president of the Essex county board of trade, Ex-Rep. George of Lawrence, C. C. Knight of Lowell, Ex-Rep. George of Lawrence, Alderman Alderman of Lawrence, Charles H. Melville of Lowell, Mr. Kittredge, representing the American Woolen Co., C. C. Shannon of Haverhill, Secretary of the Haverhill board of trade, Capt. William P. White of Lowell, Senator Wells of Haverhill, and several others.

The Hearing Opened
A. H. Sutherland of Lawrence was the first speaker. He said in part: "Our freight rates in the Merrimack valley are very high and we seek to have these rates reduced."

After reviewing freight conditions and transportation in other countries, including Germany and Great Britain, showing that more than 50 per cent of the freight there is water borne, Mr. Sutherland switched back to the United States and stated that the Merrimack river valley exports and imports more than the city of Manchester, Eng., or Glasgow, Scotland, where enormous amounts of merchandise have been exported in the development of waterways.

"There isn't any other improvement you can make that will so improve conditions and add to the prosperity of this section of the country than to develop the Merrimack river."

Mr. Sutherland was followed by L. R. Hovey, of Haverhill. Mr. Hovey dealt in number relative to cost of the plan of development as proposed and in reply to questions by the chairman relative to bridges, said no new bridges would have to be constructed, but that probably in some cases, draw would have to be installed.

"The important point of the state providing for an appropriation at this time," said Mr. Hovey, "is because the federal government looks to local communities to pay part of the cost, and if we can go to Washington and show them that we mean business and show them that we mean business, they will be made easier for us."

Lowell Board of Trade
John H. Murphy, secretary of the Lowell board of trade, said that the board of trade had expressed itself as in favor of the project and that there is a great desire and demand in Lowell for this improvement. He said there was considerable feeling in Lowell about delay in transportation and the development of the Merrimack river, he said, would mean greater prosperity for the Merrimack valley. He said that in order to entice the federal government the cooperation of the states was absolutely necessary.

In reply to questions by the chairman, Mr. Murphy said that the municipal council of the city of Lowell had gone on record as in favor of establishing public highways in Lowell in accord with the improvement of the Merrimack river.

Mayor of Lawrence
Mayor Scanlon of Lawrence said that the city of Lawrence and vicinity are practically unanimous for the development of the Merrimack river and he read a resolution to that effect passed by the city government of Lawrence. "The development of the Merrimack

FEDERAL TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO COLORADOPresident Wilson Determined to Restore Order in Coal Strike
District Where Virtual Civil War Exists

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Wilson today ordered federal troops to Colorado to restore order in the coal strike district where virtual civil war exists.

The decision was reached after the president had seen over the Colorado situation with the cabinet during a two-hour session and a proclamation will be issued later in the day ordering the federal soldiers to the scene of the industrial conflict.

The number of troops will be decided on by a conference in the office of the secretary of war.

The president in a telegram to Gov. Ammons requested that the state legislature, which is to be convened May 1, consider the whole situation so that means may be provided for the maintenance of the authority and to limit the restoration of the federal troops. The president asks also that the militia be withdrawn temporarily while the federal troops restore order.

ASTOR WEDDING

Will Take Place on Thursday, the Date
Originally Set

NEW YORK, April 28.—The wedding of Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington and Vincent Astor is to take place on Thursday, the date originally set, although the illness of Mr. Astor necessitated a change in the plans and the ceremony will be performed at Hopland house, the Huntington home, instead of in St. Margaret's church, Statensburg, N. Y.

The ceremony will be performed at 12:30 o'clock and will be attended by a small assembly of relatives and friends, not exceeding fifty in number. Miss Huntington's only attendant will be her sister, Miss Alice Huntington, and Herman Oelrich will serve as best man.

No arrangements for the honeymoon had been made by Mr. Astor but it is expected that he and his bride will remain at his estate at Furness until his health improves sufficiently to undertake carrying out his original plans for a trip aboard his yacht.

The ceremony will be performed at 12:30 o'clock and will be attended by a small assembly of relatives and friends, not exceeding fifty in number. Miss Huntington's only attendant will be her sister, Miss Alice Huntington, and Herman Oelrich will serve as best man.

DOWNS PILLSBURY SITE

Municipal Board Rescinds Vote by Which Matter Was Referred to the Citizens

At a regular meeting of the municipal council this noon the council voted to rescind its former action in voting to refer the matter of the Pillsbury site for a contagious hospital to the voters of Lowell, at the next election on the grounds that the former vote was illegal inasmuch as the vote was taken without the consent of the board of health, and again that some of the signatures on the petition had been forged. The offer of the Ward land for a hospital site, by Allen E. Dexter was rejected.

The meeting was scheduled for 11 o'clock but the members of the council did not convene until 12 o'clock for a private conference was held in the mayor's office for fully one hour before the opening of the meeting. All members were present.

The first matter taken up was a hearing on the petition of Ralph S. Gross for a gasoline license and inasmuch as there were no remonstrants the petition was referred. The commissioner of streets and highways reported favorably on the petition of Jacob Weitzel for the construction of a sewer in Dayton street and the petition was adopted.

On recommendation of the commissioner of streets and highways it was also voted to construct a sewer in Cambridge street at a cost of $135, on the petition of Andrew J. Devine. Napoleon Forrest petitioned for a sewer in Colonial avenue at a cost of $763 and the petition was favorably acted upon. On petition of Jeremiah Doyle it was also voted to construct a sewer in Hill street.

Several petitions from the Lowell Electric Light corporation and the New England Telephone Co. for wire attachments were referred. Thomas W. Johnson and others petitioned for the construction of a sewer in East Merrimack street and the petition was referred. John P. McManus was appointed a constable and his bonds accepted. Joseph Mullin petitioned for a permit to keep gasoline and the petition was referred.

The C. B. Coburn Co. petitioned the council to lease the company a strip of land owned by the city, on the southern side of the Market building, said strip of land to be eight feet in width and 12 in length. The company also petitioned that it be allowed to build and maintain a tank or tanks to be set in the ground on said land, known as and called underground tanks, wherein to keep and store gasoline, and to erect a building thereon, not over one and one-half stories in height, in which to conduct and carry on said business of selling gasoline. The petition was read and referred to the city solicitor.

It was voted to refund a part of the license fee of the late Andrew J. Donohue, the license having been surrendered before its expiration.

Hospital Site
The Pillsbury estate for a contagious hospital site was taken up by Commissioner Carmichael, who said the vote taken some time ago by the council, referring the matter of the selection of the site to the voters of Lowell, was illegal on the grounds that the said vote was taken without consulting the board of health, and also for the fact that some of the names in the petition had been forged. He moved and the former action of the council be rescinded.

Commissioner Brown spoke in opposition of the motion and he said in part: "I do not believe this council has the legal power to prevent this question going to the citizens of Lowell for final decision. I believe we should not attempt in haste and hurry to take to ourselves the rights which are vested in the citizens and which they may be trusted to decide fairly and justly. The majority of this council went to the extent of its rights when it referred this question to a general election and denied the petitioners time to add necessary names to go to a special election. No courtesy was shown the petitioners and they were held to the almost limit of what this council at that time deemed its rights to be."

A roll call was then taken and all with the exception of Com. Brown voted in favor of rescinding the vote. Com. Carmichael then proposed to reject the offer of the Ward land in Pawtucketville for a hospital site inasmuch as the state board of health had found that the place was not a suitable one for such a purpose, and by a unanimous vote the land offered by Mrs. Ellen E. Dexter was thrown down.

Sewer to Training School
On motion of Com. Morse it was voted to authorize the mayor in behalf of the city to make an agreement with the county commissioners for the construction of a sewer by the city in Middlesex street to connect with that of the Middlesex county training school, the said work to be finished by Aug. 1, 1914, citizens of the commonwealth to be given the preference for work and eight hours to constitute a day's work. At the close of the meeting Com. Morse stated he will put fifty men to work on the job next week and he expects to have the sewer completed two weeks later.

The purchasing agent was authorized to make a contract with Edward Cawley for stricken sewer pipes for the street department, and also to make a contract with the L. A. Wilson Co. for 6000 barrels of Portland cement at $1.51 per barrel.

Commissioner Carmichael asked permission to make a contract for repairs of an engine of the fire department, the boiler of which was recently condemned by the state inspector and he asked the sum of $250 for the work and it was so voted. Mr. Carmichael said when the council made the appropriations they were not aware of a bill from the C. C. Hase Co. for these, amounting to $1500, and he said he does not believe his appropriation will be sufficient to cover this, inasmuch as considerable unexpected repairs are needed in the department. He said the goods were purchased last year, but the bill did not come in until a few days ago.

At the request of Commissioner Donnelly it was voted to compensate Philip Donnet with $15 and also to pay hospital bills amounting to $22.14 to the Lowell hospital for treatment given the said Donnet, who was injured while at work in the moth department, this settlement pending under the workman's compensation act.

Mayor Murphy announced that within ten days he hopes to take up all the new claims for 1914 and dispose of them as quickly as possible.

Commissioner Brown presented two bills, one from the Good Roads Machine Co. amounting to $209 and another from the New England Machine Co. amounting to $139, the said bills being for the purchase of tools for the street department back in 1910. Commissioner Morse said he did not favor paying the bills, and he said he could not approve them, inasmuch as the tools were of the second hand nature, and it was voted to give the petitioners, the two above companies, leave to withdraw their claims. It was then 12:35 o'clock and the meeting adjourned till May 11 at 11 o'clock.

told him that everything was going along all right at the Edison school. Mr. Campbell asked Mr. Molloy if he was prepared to state that a high degree of efficiency could be maintained by a woman in a school of over 500 pupils when the woman has her own room to teach.

Mr. Molloy allowed that there should be a man principal at the Edison school, but did not think the school was suffering at the present time.

Mr. Campbell called the committee's attention to section 11, chapter 4, of the school laws wherein it is stated that each grammar school must have a master. Mr. Campbell allowed that if the Edison school could not get along without a master there wasn't any reason why the other grammar schools couldn't get along without masters. He said the committee's plan two months ago was for more time.

Mr. Campbell asked Dr. Lambert and Mr. Simpson if they had made any serious attempt to find a man for the position and they replied that they had.

"Then you have been able to find a man," said Mr. Campbell.

"We certainly have," said Dr. Lambert.

"Are you ready to vote tonight," asked Mr. Campbell, and they replied that they were not ready. Dr. Lambert said he expected to be ready some time before a great while to vote for a candidate.

Two ballots were then taken and there was no choice. Chaise voted for John P. Meahan; Campbell and Thompson for Christopher Hagan; Janney and Simpson not voting.

question comes on the acceptance of the report. Not upon the discontinuance of the teacher.

Lambert—"The acceptance of the report would not dismiss the teacher, but the adoption of the report would."

Campbell—"Who is to take Mr. O'Donoghue's place?"

Lambert—"Mr. Connolly, now a teacher there."

Campbell—"Just a little shift about the principal. Is that the idea?"

Lambert—"For the efficiency of the school."

Campbell—"Do you think a man (teaching machine drawing and mathematics) is capable of teaching an academic course?"

Lambert—"I don't know. Mr. Fisher says it will be hard to find a man to fill the position that Mr. O'Donoghue has been trying to fill."

Campbell—"Who will take Mr. Connolly's place?"

Lambert—"Mr. Butterfield."

Campbell—"That's a jump on the surface as it is hard to find a man to shift a man from a position in which he has been making good to another."

GREEKS IMPOSED UPON VERY CHARMING DANCANT

By Promises of Wages in the West Held Last Evening to Aid St. John's Hospital by Ladies of Charity at Associate Hall

—Committee Appointed to Take Charge of Parochial School

About 20 Greek residents of this city left for the west Monday evening, and many of their friends are inclined to believe that they will return to the United States before many months. The only about two months ago some of them left for Chicago, where they were to secure employment for a railroad company, but it seems that only a few of them received jobs and the others were stranded.

A well known member of the community in conversation with a reporter of The Sun said that some of his fellow countrymen were as interpreters for these western railroad companies and they do all they can to attract the Greeks to the west, promising them high wages and the best of jobs, and accordingly many returned and it is safe to say that they will not again be caught in such schemes.

A few days ago word was received in this city to the effect that Greeks were wanted out west, and again the inducement of high wages was put forth, and although some 200 were caught but a short time ago, some 30 more left Lowell and journeyed west. The city who supplied the writer with the information said he was pained to appeal to the immigration commission of this country to see if there is any means for preventing such building on the part of large manufacturing or railroad concerns.

School Committee Formed

At a recent meeting of the members of the Greek colony a school commission was formed to look after the parochial school, and the following were appointed for a term of one year: Thomas Jean Neumes, chairman; John Vlahos, Elmer Hennis, Harry Blomquist, John Lavarakis, Antonia Sotgiatou, Peter Lamadakis, George Economopoulos and Dennis Sakellariou.

These men will endeavor to make the necessary alterations at the basement of the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street, when up to a short time ago served as a school for the teaching of the school, which was ordered closed a couple of weeks ago by the local board of health. The commission will also endeavor to raise the necessary funds to remodel the old Plunkett residence in Western street, which was purchased several months ago, and convert it into a parochial school. In future the school board will be elected at the same time as the directors of the community, and it is the desire of many to have two members of the board elected every year, which means that school commission will serve two years.

The annual election of the directors of the community will be held on Saturday, May 23, and the candidates have only until May 5 to announce their candidacy, and so far only two candidates for the presidency of the community have entered the contest. These are Thomas Jean Neumes and John Vlahos.

Mr. Neumes is a former president of the community and is a law student. He is a well educated man and very prominent among his fellow countrymen. At the present time he is serving as interpreter for the Trans National bank. Mr. Vlahos has never been in Greek politics, but his friends say he is a cleverer. He conducts two fruit establishments and is a very prosperous business man. Another name mentioned is that of Nicholas D. Spyropoulos, who runs a coffee house on Market street, but nothing definite could be learned as to the plans of Mr. Spyropoulos.

Harry Houpis, the present incumbent, will not be a candidate again. Mr. Houpis believes he has served the community long enough for he has held the position of treasurer for eight years and that of president for four years.

Registration is now going on and providing a non pays his annual tax of $2, he is obliged to have his name on the check-list, but registration will close on May 20. It is expected that the contest for the highest position of the community will be an interesting one inasmuch as there are many new voters who refuse to disclose who they will support at the election.

The widely heralded and truly charming dancing held last evening in Associate Hall in aid of St. John's Hospital and under the auspices of the Ladies of Charity was in every sense of the word a financial and social success, and never was success so rightly merited for not only is the cause deserving but the character and resourceful committee in charge labored long and earnestly to give to the Lowell public the best in refined enjoyment in the name of sweet charity. The present social season has been remarkable for many brilliant gatherings, but it is doubtful if at the most exclusive society event were displayed more cordial friendliness, directed informally by magnetic enthusiasm than were seen last evening. The dancing floor was taxed to capacity by hundreds of and everywhere and outlined the stage on the back of which was set a symbolic coat of arms, representing the mission of those who labor to unite the hearts of the sisters of the charity. Strangers of broad hunting were carried from the center to the galleries which were draped in white and gold of the same material and in the center of the hall hung an enormous cluster of American flags, flanked by trailing sprays of smilax. Several plants and evergreens of various kinds were also used effectively at many vantage points, giving that refreshing tone to the decorations which nature always gives as contrasted with art.

The splendid music which was favorably commented on by many of those present throughout the evening was by the now famous Sixth Regiment band under the leadership of Bert Taber. At 8 o'clock a concert of classic and popular airs was given and at 9 when the dancers had all filed in general dancing was started, continuing until 1 a. m. A charming and appropriate feature was an exhibition of the modern dances which was given during intermission by Mrs. Elizabeth Reed of Boston and Mr. William F. Saunders of this city. Three numbers were given, the first being the hesitation waltz, second the Argentine tango, and third, the maxixe. The grace and elegance of the exhibition dances were closely rivaled by many of the incidental dances of the evening. When at 1 a. m. the last note of the inspiring music died away and the event became a happy memory, a smiling crowd deserted the darkness hall feeling that the St. John's dancing deserves a special nook in the corner of memory where happiest events are treasured.

He said a few months ago about 250 Greeks left Lowell for Chicago, where they were sure to be employed by a large railroad company at a minimum wage of $2.10 a day. A few of them reached the western city a few of them secured employment and the others were forced to return to Lowell. RAIN ENDS VIOLENCE IN COLORADO STRIKE ZONE

Downpour Drove to Cover the Striking Miners Who Were Attacking Mine—Federal Troops Arrive

DENVER, April 28.—Violence in the strike zones of Colorado came to an end shortly after midnight when a downpour of rain drove to cover striking miners who were attacking the Walsen mine, near Walsenburg, the only point in Colorado where actual violence obtained and today dawned with the prospect of indefinite peace between the warring industrial factions. Federal troops from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, arrived in Colorado early today and troops from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., were expected to reach the state before night. The soldiers from Wyoming went to Canon City and those from Kansas probably will go to Trinidad.

The situation in the northern district became quiet yesterday when the strikers ran out of ammunition. In official circles here and among the union leaders there was an expression of confidence in the federal troops' ability to control the situation. Governor Ammons, however, reiterated his determination not to withdraw any of the state troops from localities which will not be amply protected by the federal soldiers.

President Wilson's proclamation yesterday by virtue of which the federal troops were ordered into Colorado gives the strikers, "gunmen" and others until tomorrow to return to their various abodes peacefully and to cease all acts of lawlessness.

Governor Ammons expressed great relief upon the arrival of the federal troops.

Party leaders conferred here today relative to the organization of the special session of the legislature which convenes May 14th to act on the strike situation, its control and remedy.

UPTON SINCLAIR, HIS WIFE AND THREE OTHER WOMEN ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 28.—Upton Sinclair, the novelist, his wife and three other women were arrested today while attempting to enter the Standard Oil Co. office on Wall street, for the purpose of interfering for the Colorado strikers.

A woman who describes herself as Mrs. Belle N. Silverman and a socialist invaded the outer offices of Mr. Rockefeller in the Standard Oil building and sought to interview him with reference to the coal mines strike in Colorado. Mr. Rockefeller's secretary told her he was busy at a conference. The woman carried an American flag into the office. She was joined on the sidewalk by Upton Sinclair, who bore a bit of rope on his arm in pursuance of a plan announced at a socialist mass meeting last night where it was agreed that "gunmen" should gather in front of the Standard Oil building as a protest against the sacrifice of lives in Colorado.

Mrs. Silverman and Sinclair were the first to arrive on the scene. He did not attempt to enter the office but remained on the sidewalk.

Mrs. Silverman sought to place this message before Mr. Rockefeller:

"I am an American citizen, standing at your door waiting for just a word with you. Will you grant me this request? My question will be brief and to the point."

The prisoners were taken to the Old Slip police station, where Mrs. Sinclair was released. The other women, who were placed in cells pending their arraignment in court, said they were Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, an English suffragette, who has once been in jail with Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst; Mrs. Margaret Remington Charter and Mrs. Donnie Lacey. All had been arrested on the sidewalk in front of 26 Broadway.

Administration and Navy Dept. Ready for any Eventualities—Gen. Huerta Releases all Foreign Prisoners—Americans Maltreated in Mexico—Armistice Pending

WASHINGTON, April 29.—An armistice in the difficulties between the United States and Mexico has been asked of this government and General Huerta by the South American envoys who have undertaken to avert war through mediation. Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil today notified Secretary Bryan that this had been determined upon as the next step in the negotiations and that General Huerta also had been notified.

The proposal for an armistice was communicated to President Wilson from the state department by telephone. Though no announcement has been made it is authoritatively learned that this government would accept the conditions provided assurances are given that in addition to a halt in military operations there would be no civil uprisings against American citizens or other "unlawful incidents which might prevent peace."

LICENSE BOARD

Granted the 3 Liquor Licenses Held Up—Other Matters Heard

The license commission held a meeting in its rooms this forenoon and besides giving several hearings granted the three first class liquor licenses which were withheld at the regular sessions last week. The licenses were granted to A. J. Donohoe & Co., corner Gorham and South Highland streets; J. H. McDonald & Co., 124 Allen st., and Joan J. Regan, 35 Middle street.

Two residents of Smith street, Mrs. Staples and Mrs. Stackpole, appeared before the commission as remonstrants to the application of John C. Lee to conduct a billiard and pool room at 181 Smith street. The complainants claimed that the pool parlor is not closed at 11:30 o'clock nights as per the conditions of the license which the proprietors hold and they stated that there was too much noise in the vicinity late nights and early mornings. They told the board that they were greatly disturbed by the actions of the frequenters of the place, and asked that the condition be righted. It was voted to lay the matter on the table for consideration.

M. Cohen appeared in opposition to the granting of junk dealers' licenses to Abraham Farman of 36 Railroad st. and Mendle Medinsky, also of 35 Railroad street. Mr. Cohen was represented by lawyer Bennett Silverblatt, who told the board that the two applicants never made use of the provisions of the license and held them for another purpose. Both of the licenses were granted.

There was a little misunderstanding about the application of a lodging house license of Mary Joncas, who con-

TO DROP OLD MEN FROM THE FIRE DEPT.

Fire Underwriters May so Recommend After Thorough Inspection—Workmen's Compensation Hearing

The fire underwriters in their report, it was stated today, would recommend that a number of old men, members of the Lowell fire department, be retired for the good of the service.

With the exception of testing out the different fire engines the underwriters have completed their examination of the fire houses throughout the city. The houses were inspected by Mr. Meers and he was shown through by Chief Saunders.

"It was not a superficial inspection that Mr. Meers made," said Chief Saunders, "in conversation with a reporter for The Sun, today, 'and what he hasn't seen isn't worth seeing. He inspected the different houses from cellar to attic and went over the equipment thoroughly. All that remains to be done now is to test the engines and they will be attended to this week. The boiler in the Fourth street engine house was condemned by State Inspector Moore a short time ago and the engine is being supplied with a new boiler at the present time. The boiler is being built at the Seawall boiler works."

"After having completed his examination of the firehouses, Mr. Meers asked me to supply him with the ages of the firemen and the houses to which they are assigned. In going the rounds he remarked on the ages of some of the firemen and I rather anticipated that he will recommend the retirement of some of the men. I do not know, however, that any particular age limit has been established."

Quite a considerable number of the firemen are well along in years and it cannot be denied that some of them are a bit feeble. As commissioner of water works and fire department, last year, Andrew E. Barrett was heard to say that some of the older men in the fire department should be retired, and he believed it would be a paying investment for the city to retire them. The fact remains, however, that the city is fairly well burdened with pensions at the present time and any recommendation on the part of the fire underwriters for the pensioning of firemen would undoubtedly meet with some opposition.

Branch Street House

The lands and buildings department, under Commissioner James E. Donnelly, has finished with the Branch street firehouse for the repairing and renovation of which $3500 was appropriated. Big improvements have been made and the painters are now adding the finishing touches. The repairs and alterations included the putting in of 12 individual sleeping rooms, tub and shower baths, workshop and other things. The second floor of the Branch street house was used as a polling booth at one time, precinct one of ward three and it was reached by an outside stairs. The changes just completed included the removal of the stairs from the outside to the inside and this one change alone has added materially to the appearance of the building. The work of remodeling the Branch street house was begun last August.

Workmen's Compensation Act

A hearing under the workmen's compensation act was held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this forenoon. Elias Michalides was the petitioner who alleged that he was injured.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Henry, who is employed at the Talbot mills, has decided not to go to Mexico.

The president of the Nakond club has issued a proclamation against the tango at their dance Friday night.

"Dick" Morrison who is employed as a weaver at the Finglow Carpet company, has plans completed for a trip to Ireland in June.

Joseph Toulon, the well known carpet weaver and all round athlete, claims he knows how to fight as well as weave.

Daniel Roberts, a jolly weaver at the Finglow Carpet company, has lost a wager on good booze to his rival George Star. To make good he must not shave for three weeks.

The many friends of Patrick Kearns will be pleased to learn that he has returned to work after being confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle. Mr. Kearns is a much respected weaver at the Finglow Carpet company.

The clerks employed in the stores of Mr. N. H. after extensive negotiations have concluded to perfect an organization with the purpose of improving the time of opening and closing of the various establishments in the town.

The "Violet club" held a most successful dance last night at Lincoln hall. The young ladies of this club are employed in the best mills and factories. They say that the little writing in "Among the Toilers" helped materially.

The employees of the Saco-Lowell shop will be given a holiday Saturday.
The reason given out was to give all the men an opportunity to visit the textile exhibition in Boston. Free tickets will be given to the employees by the management. Members desiring these tickets should apply to the superintendent.

William "Hunker" Harrington, the well known member of the Plumbers union, has accepted a job in Manchester, N. H. He was formerly employed in that city and his old boss couldn't get along without him. His old friend

"Rube" Cookin, is working in Boston, where his services are always in demand.

There will be a chance for all mill employees to inspect Lowell's famous Textile school on May 6, which will be graduation day. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock, and all who can should avail themselves of this opportunity to go through a great institution of learning for, bedes being interesting it will be instructive.

Street Railway Men's Union
The Street Railway Men's union met in their hall in the Runels building last night and business of importance was transacted. The secretary's report showed progress and the financial condition on a sound basis. Plans for a complimentary party to their many friends, particularly those who assisted in the recent Saunders contest, were made, and the affair promised to be a success.

GOVERNOR WALSH WINS

Succeeds in Having Adj.-Gen. Pearson Ousted—Sen. Fisher Led Fight Against Governor

The bill which gives Governor Walsh the right to oust Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson and appoint his successor went through the senate yesterday afternoon to a third reading, by a vote of 22 to 17. Senator Edward Fisher led the fight against the bill. The measure will immediately be put through its other stages and sent to the governor for his approval. Mr. Fisher is said to favor the appointment of Ex-Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole. If Governor Walsh will accept the place, the appointment will be made without delay.

The debate was warm and lasted all the afternoon. The bill was passed by a vote of 22 to 17. Senator Edward Fisher led the fight against the bill. The measure will immediately be put through its other stages and sent to the governor for his approval. Mr. Fisher is said to favor the appointment of Ex-Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole. If Governor Walsh will accept the place, the appointment will be made without delay.

It is to be a great success.

Carpenters Met

The Carpenters' union, local 19, met in the Carpenters hall in the Randall building last evening with President J. E. Sears in the chair. Business of considerable importance was transacted. Five new members were admitted. A communication was read from a Mr. Wilson, the head of a big contracting firm in Boston, asking for a dozen men in a hurry, but this could not be supplied because all the members have been steadily employed here in Lowell. The carpenters in Lowell are doing a big business. The membership is steadily increasing, from two to seven new members being admitted every meeting.

The carpenters are much pleased with the space afforded them in Tuesday night's "Sun" and say that this paper has one of the best labor pages in this state.

Labor News from Boston

The Hatters' union has voted to seek a new agreement with their employers. Better wages and shorter hours will be asked. The four unions of bookbinders in the greater Boston district are discussing amalgamation. Sentiment seems to favor the plan. The New England Electrical Workers' district council has ordered its affiliated locals to insist on the enforcement of all inspection laws. The appalling loss of life and property because of inefficient electrical distribution, installation and inspection has caused the delegates to insist on the enforcement of all inspection laws. The state board of electrical inspection has been ordered to enforce the law. The state board of electrical inspection has been ordered to enforce the law. ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

All Over Face, Arms and Hands—Would Walk the Floor All Night

Dec. 8, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started when I was but 13 years old and has since then been a constant torment. It started with small pimples all over my face, arms, and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. I would then have a severe attack of itching, and I would have to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I could not sleep at all—just walked the floor all night.

I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief after the third application. After using four jars of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured. (Signed) Mr. H. P. Elmer, Box 13, Haverhill, Mass.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap quickly heal skin eruptions, clear away pimples and blackheads, and form a barrier against household treatment for sores, burns, boils, etc. For trial size, free, write to Resinol, Dept. 10-R, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all druggists. Prescribed by doctors for 19 years.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Pres. Wilson yesterday ordered that the federal troops be sent to the Colorado mine district where many persons have been killed and valuable mines and other property have been destroyed by dynamite.

A graphic account of hostilities in the strike zone which appeared in the New York Sun is appended:

Draw a circle around Trinidad, Colo., with a radius of perhaps 25 miles. At least 800 persons—men, women and children—have been killed in that area since last Sept. 22. They have been shot to death, blown up by dynamite, clubbed or kicked. Fifty have been killed since last Tuesday. Twenty-five persons, women and children among them, were trapped in a mine which was set on fire on Wednesday and only escaped by a miracle. Five thousand women and children are wandering over the barren foothills of the Rockies, homeless and well nigh foodless.

If it were not for Mexico, the breathless attention of the United States would be turned on Trinidad and the southern coal district of Colorado today. At that, the men who endeavor to take a large view of affairs declare it even more significant to the country than its foreign policy.

Armed Open Revolt

It is more important than the great strike of 1878 and more important than the railroad strike of 1893. It is the deliberate, organized resistance of an entire state and of the entire United States, for that matter, by an international labor union operating through more than 15,000 men.

It is not passive resistance, but armed open revolt against conditions. The entire state militia of Colorado has been called out. The rights of private property have been forgotten and even the mandates of the federal courts have been ignored.

Men have declared openly that they will die and take their families to death with them rather than yield. They have been burned, dynamited, killed in the face of machine guns and modern rifles. They have instituted a

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES LAME BACK

I am pleased to say a good word for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I was troubled for a year or more with my kidneys and annoying symptoms. My brother advised me to try Swamp-Root. I took several bottles of this remedy with excellent results. At the time Swamp-Root was recommended to me my condition was such that I found it an effort in stooping or bending and in attending to my duties as manager of the $9.99 Store at 122 Main street, Evansville, Ind.

Very truly yours,
J. E. ALVBY,

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do for You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention "The Lowell Sun." Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

and of the employees of the Middlesex and Boston road for an increase in wages.

At a recent session of the arbitration board, Arthur M. Hubbell of the Boston board presented wage scales showing that mechanics and artisans employed within a radius of thirty miles of Boston receive from thirty to fifty per cent more pay than the employees of the Middlesex & Boston company, and work on an average of nine or ten months a year.

Among the interests at the hearing was Thomas Houlahan, barman at the Natick car barn.

Houlahan testified that it was his duty to examine the cars at the Natick barn for defects and to make repairs. He said that upon the 14th he inspected the car of the 14th and found it defective. He said that he had to do much heavy lifting. He does some housework, some carpenter work and some machine work.

Houlahan said that the conditions at the Natick car barn were such that the men were forced to work in the pits under the cars very long. Cars were come into the barn with the bottom of the car just a foot or two from the ground. The men were forced to crawl over the pits and work in the mud. He said that he had to do much heavy lifting. He does some housework, some carpenter work and some machine work.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The population of New York city, as reported by the United States bureau of the census, will be 5,333,537 on July 1 this year. The figures are based on the advance rate of population reported by the census bureau.

The population of New York city at the time of the census of 1910 was 4,766,824. The estimated gain in population has been 566,713.

According to these estimates, the population of New York city for the same date in 1900 was 4,766,824.

The estimated population of the United States, exclusive of all its possessions, for the same anniversary date of July 1, 1914, is 109,021,000, as against 101,772,000 at the time of the census of 1910. A corresponding increase in the population of the United States is 7,249,000, to be compared with 5,333,537 in 1910.

OPEN SEASON TOMORROW

Game Scheduled for Haverhill
Grounds Transferred—"Snub-
ber" Thomas Arrives

With the Haverhill ball club in the lobby of a local hotel awaiting the commencement of hostilities and part of the local team already dressed for the parade which was to have preceded the trip to Spaulding park, a heavy shower at noon today caused Manager Gray to announce that the Lowell-Haverhill New England league opening game had been postponed. The rain gave no indications of letting up when the management made its decision. The calling off of the game was a disappointment to management, players and fans alike. All the preparations had been completed for a gala day and the interference of the weather man was heartily deplored.

Opening Game Tomorrow
The opening of the New England league for its 1914 season in this city will be held here tomorrow under exactly the same conditions that were scheduled to prevail today. The league schedule calls for a game in Haverhill tomorrow but Manager Gray has prevailed upon Dan Cloney to transfer it to this city.

In all probability Daniel realized that his park would be pretty muddy and that it would be practically an impossibility for him to pull off the game on his own terms. Nevertheless, he fully appreciated the fact that we are to have the game here tomorrow regardless of the reasons which prompted the transfer.

The local management has announced that Ladies' day will prevail tomorrow. Although Wednesday is usually the day on which the fair sex is recognized at the grand stand box office, the rain today and subsequent postponement of the game will give them the same opportunity tomorrow.

Joe Wood Will Be Here
"Smoky" Joe Wood, the renowned pitcher of the Red Sox, telephoned Gray this afternoon to learn about the game.

When he heard that it was postponed until tomorrow he informed the local manager that he would be on hand with an auto load of friends. Heine Wagner will also be in the box reserved for the Boston party.

Baseball Not Dead in Lowell
If the large number of telephone calls, which came in at the baseball office this morning asking for particulars about the game, are any criterion on which to base an opinion, interest in the great national game has not died out in Lowell by any means. Asst. Secretary Jack Kelley was a very busy personage, for the thrills of the telephone sound every few minutes during the entire morning.

Cloney Greatly "Put Out"
The general Daniel was not in a pleasant mood when he learned the inevitable action of Manager Gray. Of course Haverhill received their $40 rain guarantee which is forthcoming whenever a visiting team is held up on account of inclement weather but $40 did not satisfy Cloney by any means. His opening exhibition game down in Haverhill at which more than 1200 fans paid admission had whetted his appetite for a good fat bag of money today and he could not be reconciled.

Same Formalities to Be Observed
The preparations made for today's opener will be carried out without a change whenever the Champions get a fair day to play at home. Band parade and all the other formalities which were scheduled for today will take place just the same on the first home appearance of the club.

Manager Gray, Infortunate
Manager Gray has been very unfortunate this year on account of the poor weather conditions, which have existed during the two weeks in which his recruits have been at work. Only two good days have been enjoyed by club and it was well nigh impossible to get a line on just what the players of unknown calibre could do.

HARVARD WAS SWAMPED

CHAMPIONS HANDED OUT 10-0 DE-
FEAT TO HARVARD SECOND

With Pete Wood and "Texas" Lohman working like machines in the box yesterday afternoon the Lowell club defeated the second team of Harvard university by the overwhelming score of 10 to 0. Only three safeties were gathered off the Lowell pitchers while the Champions hit the two collection boxes for 11 safe blows. Lowell had a perfect fielding slate.

This was the first time that the Lowell club has entered a contest this year with an outfield in charge of the far pastures, Stinson, Potteiger and Mathewson were in the lineup yesterday and the difference in the outfield was plainly noticeable.

Potteiger's one hand catch in center was the leading feature of the game and this player, with Kelley, also carried off the batting honors. Kelley batted out a double and two singles while "Butch" came to the front with a double and one single. The score:

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

It has certainly been a tough day for the New England league opening. Last year it was pleasant enough but the cold weather made attendance at a ball game only an undertaking for a hardy individual. The Lowell management has been unlucky in its weather drawings of the past two seasons.

The Textile Show, which will be run off Friday night, is looked forward to with great expectations by the athletes of the Moody street institution. The receipts of the entertainment will be used as an athletic fund and can be drawn upon any time to help out the exchequer of the athletic association in any branch of textile athletics or in the coming show, and it is certain to be a big success.

The Lowell outfield yesterday acquitted itself in fine style. Taken as a whole the outfield went to bat twelve times, made four hits for a total of seven, scored three runs, accepted three chances, and had no errors. No the outfield doesn't look bad at all.

Joe Flannery looks to be in the shape and says that he never was in the condition for playing fast ball that he is today. Joe is a scrappy infielder and may make them all sit up and take notice before many games have passed into history.

Walter Johnson was forced to acknowledge defeat again yesterday when Connie Mack's gangsters got after his delivery. The great skisoon, however, was sent to defeat more by errors behind him than by his inability to fool batters. Four hits was all that the Athletics could get him for.

New London, the team picked by the majority of experts as the most likely to pull off the Eastern association pennant race, were down in the dust yesterday in their opening game with Pittsburgh. New London is one of the greatest baseball towns in the country. Stores, saloons, mills, and other places of industry closed their doors for a holiday yesterday and over 7000 fans attended the game. A demonstration of this nature ought to shame some of the larger cities.

The New England inter-collegiate

track and field games have once more been awarded to the Harvard Stadium track. The Harvard track is the greatest in the country and the selection was certainly the best that could have been made. The date for the meet has been fixed for May 22-23.

Thanks to the heavy hitting of Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford, the Detroit Tigers now lead the American league race. These two players have been directly responsible for enough games to land Hugh Jennings' club where it is today. The Athletics seem to have hit their stride at last, however, and from now on pull up a far better line of attack and defence than in their previous contests.

In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates are on top, having lost only two games out of eleven played. The veteran, Hans Wagner, is still playing wonderful ball and yesterday landed on the ball for three solid smashes. Pittsburgh is faster this year than it has been for many seasons and McGraw of the Giants admits that the Pirates are the only club he fears.

The shutting out of Jimmy Patterson in his trial bout in the 100 yards at the Penn relay was a great surprise to everyone. Patterson is the college champion over the country and it was thought that he would give Draw a great tussle for first place. It was perfectly apparent to all that saw him run that he was in poor condition.

The new ruling of the intercollegiate committee to the effect that five men will be placed in the future instead of four as heretofore, has made a change in the Harvard track imperative. The strathaway will be broadened so that five hurdles may be set up. Work on this will not be begun until next summer. The new ruling will give a well balanced team a far better chance than in previous years.

Mahan showed yesterday in his work against the Bates college team that he is as much at home with the horsehide as he is with the pickin. Mahan got a poor start on the southern trip of the Harvard team due to a sore arm. The great half-back promises to be a wonderful pitcher before he leaves the Crimson ranks.

Lohman 1, by Fitzgibbon 3, by McDonald 1. First base on errors: By Lowell 1. Hit by pitcher: Lohman by McDonald. Struck out: By Wood 6, by Fitzgibbon 2, by McDonald 3, by Lohman 5. Wild pitch: By Fitzgibbon 1. Time: 1:45. Umpire, Roper.

Edward J. Tierney appeared for the government and at his request the case was continued for one week.

John J. Smith, who paid a fine for drunkenness in police court yesterday was back in the docket when clerk Trull called the roll this forenoon. Smith claimed that he did not touch liquor of any kind yesterday but had not completely recovered from his drunk of the previous day. He pleaded for another chance and assured Judge Fairbank that if he was allowed to go he would leave the city and not be found on the streets again.

The defendant was placed on probation for six months and a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction was ordered. James A. Cunningham made his fourth appearance within a year for being unable to discontinue partaking of intoxicants but he promised to turn over a new leaf and he was given a suspended sentence to the Lowell jail. Thomas Scollan was sent to jail for ten days for drunkenness.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

New Mill Buildings Planned by
Appleton and Hamilton Companies—Recent Sales Reported

Lowell will have two large corporations undertaking large building operations in the near future, the Hamilton and Appleton Manufacturing companies both having completed plans for the erection of these structures which will add materially to the dignity of the city's real estate. No date has been set, however, by either corporation for the start of the new enterprises.

The Appleton company's new building will be used for a warehouse and will be erected on the same site now occupied by the old blue building on Revere street. It will be used as a warehouse.

Revere street is the short, narrow street which runs from Middlesex to Jackson streets. It is in this location that A. G. Cunningham, treasurer of the company, went to the city council upon.

It seems that the original width of the street when it was first laid out by the city's engineers was thirty feet. The last survey, however, probably through error, gave the width as forty feet.

The difference of ten feet in street width would necessarily mean a great deal to the company. There are no plans drawn up as yet for the proposed warehouse, but pencil sketches have been presented to the company's board of directors which will probably be carried out in the plans.

These pencil sketches propose a culvert under the street. The coal pocket is to be put on one side of Revere street and the boiler rooms on the other, making some sort of an underground arrangement absolutely necessary.

With the street extending ten feet into into tenants.

R. H. Elliott, the Stevens street builder, has begun operations on the excavating and foundation of a two-story house on the easterly side of School street between Westford and Liberty streets. The plans call for a two and a half story dwelling finished in Colonial style. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of July and will then be placed on the market.

SOLD AT AUCTION

The Captain Caleb Philbrick estate numbered 38 Walker street was sold Friday afternoon by J. E. Conant & Co. in strict accordance with the advertisement, or promptly at 5 o'clock to the highest bona fide bidder. The sale certainly attracted all the attention it merited. There was an attendance of at least 35 and in this number were six individual bidders. The first bid for Lot One (the house and lot) was $2500 and from there by $50 stages it went to $3550 to Charles O. Ball. Lot Two, the adjoining lot, 40x 145 feet, was started at $500 and went by 10 stages to $1000 and was finally sold to the purchaser of the house for $1310, per square foot. The total sale realized just $4850.

Sales by E. Gaston Campbell
The agency of E. Gaston Campbell, located in the Bldg. building, is in the sale of a 37 acre farm in East Draught during the past week. The final papers were passed Monday.

Andrew G. Trices of this city was the buyer and the farm was owned and sold by George W. Field who has occupied the place for many years. A seven room cottage house and large poultry preserve go with the estate.

Andover Street Home
The excavating is nearly completed on the building site chosen by Ernest G. Dumas for the location of his new home and part of the foundations have already been laid. The site lies just between the Smith and Vanden Berg estates and is one of the most beautiful spots in Lowell.

When completed the Dumas home will be a two story brick building. Percy Varnum is the contractor who has charge of the construction.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Plans are being made by Samuel H. Ulines lodge, No. 56, K. of P. for the observance of Memorial day, and a meeting of committees representing all of the K. of P. lodges in the city will be held in the near future to make arrangements for a joint celebration.

Gala night will be observed on May 12 and the lodge will entertain D. G. C. Joseph Harris of Lawrence and members of the Black Prince lodge, No. 36, of the down-river city. On that night the deputy will present prizes to the winners of the membership contest and the second rank will be worked on two pages. The sick committee made an encouraging report.

Stationary Firemen

Routine business only was transacted at this week's meeting of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, local 14, held in its hall at 32 Middle street. The investigating committee is working on several applications for membership and new members are being initiated at almost every meeting.

Spanish War Veterans

The members of General Ames camp, United Spanish War Veterans, have practically completed arrangements for the Memorial day celebration. The local military companies have been requested to furnish a squad each to make up the escort, which will be in command of Lieut. Thomas Doyle. The selection of the two buglers has been left to Capt. Walter Jeyes of Co. G.

C. Y. M. L. ENJOYED LADIES' NIGHT

It was indeed a happy gathering that assembled in the well appointed quarters of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum last night, when the place was thrown open for the lady friends of the members of this popular organization, the event being one of those famous ladies' nights which have become very popular among both the members of the lyceum and their friends of the fair sex.

A very enjoyable program consisting of whist and dancing had been arranged by the committee in charge and no effort or time was spared to make the affair one of the most successful of its kind ever undertaken by the lyceum, and the work of the committee was highly praised.

At 7:30 o'clock the doors of the club rooms were thrown open and the guests were given a royal welcome. In less than one hour the various rooms of the organization were filled to their utmost and it was figured that at least 150 ladies had honored the young men with their presence.

A free use of the pool tables and other game paraphernalia was extended the guests and it is safe to say that there was something doing for sometime. It was indeed a hard task to keep tabs on the women pool sharks, some of whom handled the cue as neatly as any pool expert, and they gave some of the boys a good run for their money. While some were enjoying the pool game, others developed their muscles on the gymnasium apparatus, while again some played checkers and cards, and they all proved a happy lot. The entire membership of the lyceum served as a committee of reception and to their credit it may be said that their young guests were highly entertained.

Later in the evening a whist contest was started with John Flannery presiding and at the close of the match the result was announced with applause and cheers and the following were awarded handsome prizes: Paul McLaughlin and Cassie Randall, first Ginnivan, general manager; John Quinn, assistant general manager; Patrick J. McFarrell, floor director; John Martin, assistant floor director, with a long list of aids.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: John O'Connor, chairman; Matthew Clark, Edward Ulines, John Moody, Patrick J. McFarrell and John Flannery.

CASE OF HOLIAN

For Alleged Larceny of
Auto Fittings Continued Today

John J. Holian, of Revere, Mass., was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon charged with breaking, entering and larceny in the nighttime from the garage of Frank A. Casey on River street, Siberia. The defendant is accused of stealing tires, batteries, a fur coat, a light coat and several articles, the whole valued at $250. Holian entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until May 12 so that the police would have an opportunity to recover some of the articles.

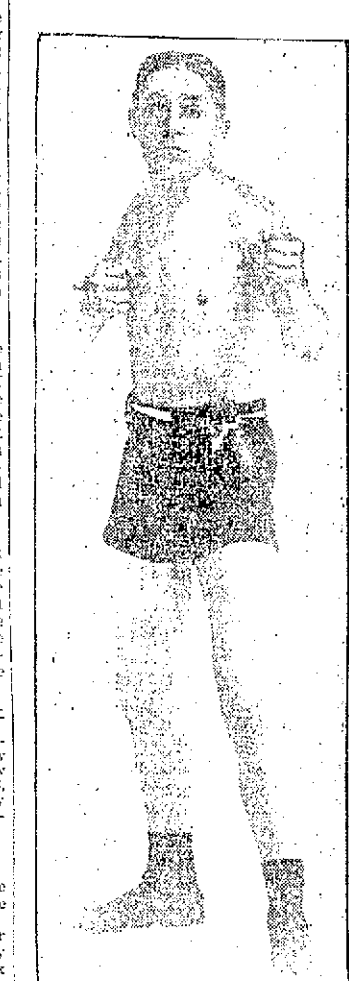

Edward J. Shannon, secretary of Local 31, International Order of Bricklayers, was charged with the larceny of $120 from the funds of the union.

IN FAST BOUT

Johnny Boyle and Kayo
Palitz Draw Over Ten
Round Route

Johnny Boyle, the fast stepping local lightweight, put up one of the most notable battles of his career last night at New London, Conn., when he boxed Kayo Palitz a ten round draw before one of the largest houses that ever attended a fistie encounter in that city.

Although Boyle only received a draw many of the spectators thought that he was entitled to the verdict on ap-count of his aggressiveness. His opponent outweighed him but the Lowell boy was after him at all times and forced the fighting until the final tap of the gong.

Palitz used a straight left to the face and jaw as his main stock in trade while the Lowell boxer worked in and did his damage with his well known left hook. Boyle's work was the cleaner cut of the two but his opponent seemed immovable to punishment. The closing round of the bout found both boxers on their feet and fighting hard.

In the other ten round bout Eddie Flynn of Lynn beat Yankee Evans. This affair went the limit, but the Lynn fighter had things his own way. Flynn has been seen many times in a local ring.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

OUR POPULATION

According to the latest census reports, Lowell has continued to increase consistently in population during the past few years, now numbering among its inhabitants over 100,000 and eleven thousand more. This population increase is not only a source of pride to the city, but it is also a source of worry to the city fathers. The city fathers are worried because the city is not able to take care of its population. The city is not able to take care of its population because the city is not able to take care of its population.

It is a matter of fact that the city of Lowell has increased in population to 110,000. It has lost its rank as the fourth city in the state in population. It has lost its rank as the fourth city in the state in population. It has lost its rank as the fourth city in the state in population.

One considering this matter of population increase may be pardoned if it asks himself if Lowell realizes the importance of it and the additional problems which it puts up to the government and to the public. It is easily more important that the city gain in the quality of its workers rather than in their quantity, but when any act of policy takes up their residence here it becomes the duty of the city to see that they become good Lowell citizens and the fathers of good citizens of the future. In housing, working conditions, respect for law and city regulations, political behavior, moral customs, and characteristically there are many other activities which the city cannot afford to neglect in dealing with its future citizens. That often they are blamed for crimes which should be laid in justice at the door of their parents for the conduct of public affairs. It is for us of the present to provide for the Lowell of the future with regard to the quantity and the quality of its residents.

MUNICIPAL EXPERTS

In the good old days before the popular conscience was over-sensitive and before such simple words as "economy" or "efficiency" were breathed in connection with city government, most of our municipalities had political regimes in which the prevailing motives of the officials in charge seemed to be to look after their friends and to spend as much money as possible. Keeping their eyes on the political windmills, in those days the municipal picture was not made their appearance, so the people gladly paid the price of a good government, getting the return in the municipal show that kept the community interested and amused from one campaign to the other. Then new elements crept in. The people got their municipal education and they demanded that their representatives make at least a pretense of business. To this end the character of all our public cities underwent alterations and repairs until there were more variations than among French pickles.

But also for popular trust governments changed in name but they did not always change in their methods. Sometimes the public got fooled a little bit; sometimes it got fooled quite a little more, but generally it got fooled to some extent. Not disheartened the people, realizing that city governments spend the money of the citizens, demanded more and more, and they are still demanding. Now they have got to the point where instead of demanding political favors, or even "kickbacks" from a great many of them demand that municipal government be a government of experts. In doing this, for the way the public is not likely to be a little more.

There are a lot of many independent but powerful organizations surrounding the public of Lowell. The direction of experts in the first place is an untested dream and it is liable to result in a very bad thing. Some of the leading cities of the country are doing the best they can in choosing experts in municipal government who are free from political influences and are not responsible to any clique or faction for their election. The system growing and it is probable that before long there will be few cities with their trained experts who will be their duties as scientists rather than as political machines.

TYPER FIRE PROTECTION

Installation of two additional in the vicinity of the French-empire is a precautionary measure which entitles Com. Car-ginal commendation.

President first night it might seem like an unnecessary innovation. Cities cannot afford to take chances in matters of this nature and incidents such as that of the Triangle factory fire of New York, the Wellesley fire of a few weeks ago, the Boston looking at apartment house fire of recent date, are all too fresh in the minds of the city fathers for all who care to read. When the safety of almost 200 children is in question, the cost of the insurance protection takes into consideration. It is through civic intelligence, free of these facts were left in a contemplation of what is possible in all organizations and schools, no amount of mourning or public regret would suffice to wash away the stain that would be left on the name of the city.

It is to be hoped that what has been done in this particular is merely an indication of a general desire on the part of the city government to afford to all other fine institutions the protection that is necessary for their safety. The future of our schools, orphanages, hospitals and other crowded institutions is so closely linked with the future of the city itself, that anything done to safeguard their inmates is an indirect public benefit, and even the most rabid exponent of economy will not regard this type of civic activity as unwarranted. It is expected that the coming report of the auditor will take up this phase of the public question in a scientific spirit and that the city will respond in kind. Anything that relates to fire protection is a matter that is now being debated in every section of this country on the face of the earth.

THE COLORADO STRIKE

It was no very cordial response that the color Rockefeller made to the personal appeal of President Wilson, protesting that the need of immediate action in the settlement of the trouble in the Colorado coal mines. Mr. Rockefeller referred him to John D. Rockefeller, who promptly discovered that the question did not lie in the least concern him. Evidently the most moral young man who works himself into a high fever of righteousness in nation-wide slave and other moral investigations did not find his virtuous self over-troubled by an industrial war which has carried away the entire people of Colorado in a vortex of hate and class struggle and bitter animosity. The government of the state has declared his inability to cope with the situation and has requested the presence of federal troops which the president has been unable and unwilling to send owing to the Mexican controversy.

What the next move will be cannot be forecasted from any event of the present, but it must cause a sickening feeling throughout the country to realize that owing to a strike which began peacefully enough, almost fifty have been killed by gun and fire and suffocation, over two-thirds of them being women and children. In the early state of the strike the workers divided themselves into two warring factions that feared neither person nor property and when the governor called out the state militia they only made matters worse by what seems to have been a war of attrition. Whatever hope there was for mediation and arbitration has disappeared and a spirit has been aroused that Colorado will undoubtedly regret for many years to come. The Lawrence strike seemed a significant affair to us of Massachusetts but it was as a game of childhood compared to the strike in the coal fields, which is in some respects more of a disgrace than the Mexican revolution.

THE DRUNKARD

Whatever one may feel about the treatment accorded to the habitual drunkard under our present laws, it will seem unjustifiable that day after day miserable creatures devoid of character or will power are sent to long terms of imprisonment, merely to keep away from society, only to come back after a repetition of the same when their sentence ends. Frequently they have reached the state of moral degradation in which they are virtual slaves to their low craving for intoxicating drink, and the idea of punishing them for a crime is growing daily more absurd to those who look upon the question in a humane spirit. Recently the Massachusetts commission on drunkenness suggested that habitual drunkards be taken in charge by the state and treated scientifically, but as yet the recommendations of the commission are not included in any action of the legislature. Recently the committee on ways and means reported favorably on a bill to admit persons arrested for drunkenness to hospital, but they then took the contradictory position of reporting adversely on a bill to establish a state hospital for those arrested from drunkenness, though it would seem to be one of the best of its kind. At the present time it is not possible to make adequate provision for the care of drunkenness, and even in the new hospital of treatment, the expense would be a heavy one. The committee on ways and means has not adopted a bill to establish such a hospital, but it is hoped that the legislature will take action on this matter.

SMALL LOAN BILL

The house a few days ago passed a bill regarding small loans which, if it becomes law, will have a far-reaching effect on many branches of business in this city. The bill would amend the laws of 1905 so that in future "the sum of $10 a week of the weekly wages of any of the employees shall be exempt from such loan or order." Still more drastic is another clause which says: "No such order or order shall be valid when made by a married man or by the written consent of his wife to the making thereof is attracted therefrom." Though the first exception might in some cases result in injustice to some legitimate branches of the credit business, the second is not in any sense exaggerated and the necessity for it is proved by the hardship which the habits of some thoughtless husbands and fathers impose on their unhappy families.

The Massachusetts legislature is not so hard up for legislation as it is for the law authorizing a man to work on a Sunday. Those who desire the law which will make time to plant a tree for them and those who have a lot of time would not be spared to do so by the passage of this.

Does it not seem to you that the moral influence of the present administration in the cause of world peace is making a lasting impression on all nations.

It is not for lack of April showers.

It is a poor note that has no kick coming.

Speaking of the contagion of enthusiasm, witness the result of the Lowell Driving Club's activity. Up to the time that the Lowell Driving Club "took reins in hand" horses racing was dead as a door nail in Lowell and now the sport is taking on its old time form. Sports, like trees and plants, die out for want of cultivation. The horse race spirit was dead until the Lowell Driving Club made manifest real genuine enthusiasm.

Ralph S. Barr, president of the Essex county board of trade, made the committee on ways and means sit up and take notice at the hearing on the development of the Merrimack river held at the state house, yesterday, when he called attention to the fact that within the last 50 years the state of New York has appropriated and spent $200,000,000 for the development of the waterways and that the state of Massachusetts had in the last 20 years appropriated only $10,000,000 for a like purpose, $12,000,000 of which was for Eastern harbor alone. Another speaker at the hearing, the Merrimack river was in charge, the government would take hold of it on its own accord and develop it.

These are really precious days for the people because the cold weather and the high water are holding out a little longer than usual. There is a number of the local fishermen have tried the streams hereabouts but they haven't met with very much success. In another week or two, however, the weather will be in their favor and the good catch will be in their hands.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Full River News: On our part, it is not in Washington though not officially, that the president will insist that Huerta shall be eliminated in order to a final settlement of the difficulty. The settlement must include the constitutionalists and perhaps other factions opposed to Huerta; and probably a settlement of the situation created by our demand that "the authority of Gen. Huerta" furnish suitable facilities for the judiciary officer of the American flag. A final settlement, the president believes, must include the establishment of constitutional government, with Huerta eliminated.

WAR

Newburyport Herald: Queen Eleanor of Bulgaria has announced that her proposed visit to the United States will be cancelled if war between the United States and Mexico continues. The queen has doubtless seen quite enough of war during the past year or two. Her gloom must have quite departed from the Bulgarian mind.

COLORADO

Woolstock Daily: The truly terrible labor war that has been raging in Colorado should not be lost sight of because we are involved in a difficulty with Mexico. The Colorado affair is indeed a national affliction in the most potent sense. There is civil war in which no cause for war is found. The barbarities reported are something more than incidents of a factional dispute; they are of the most revolting character, inspiring horror and pity.

ANOTHER CLEAN-UP

Merrimack Journal: We hope that every street and back yard in the city will be thoroughly cleaned while this period is on and that it will be done so satisfactorily that there will not be any reason for criticism in the city.

It is a time of clean-up wisely directed for this will be an example for next year and will eventually mean a general clean-up of the city and wonders will be wrought each year.

Presidents Problem

Newport News: Of course President Wilson is receiving daily hundreds of letters from citizens of the United States telling him how to handle the Mexican situation, and there is great variety in the advice given. Some think there has been too much waiting and that there has not been a proclamation to say that people would explain everything and put an end to the misunderstanding. The president has hardly time to read all the letters and could not take all the advice given him if he would. He is president and must work out the crisis as he thinks best.

GOV. WALSH WINS

under which the tenure of office of the adjutant-general was made five years. It was formerly for only one year. General Pearson was appointed by Governor Foss.

When Walsh became governor he tried to name his own adjutant-general but found the five-year act in the way. The Mexican situation has greatly complicated the controversy, and led to a prompt consideration of the bill.

When informed of the vote of the senate, General Pearson said:

"I believe that the tenure of office was a good law for the militia to have it from politics. However, as the senate has decided from my view and supported that of the governor I shall ask that the measure be passed to be engrossed and enacted as promptly as possible and that request that I be placed upon the retired list."

"The question of my position is not a matter of public interest. I was simply trying to place the militia in a condition for war service and trying to get the full duty of the state and the public. I have no idea who my successor will be, but I shall do everything possible to help him if he desires my services."

Walsh Has Two in Mind

Governor Walsh said he had no comment to make upon the senate vote. The governor said that he had two persons in mind for the position, but he had not communicated with either of them.

He added that the fact that a man is now an officer in the militia will not disqualify him, but that he will not name any man who has been prominent in the fight over the measure relating to Adjutant-General Pearson.

The state house corridors were crowded all day with partisans of each side of the controversy. Few bills this year have been subjected to the same amount of work.

During the debate the galleries and floor of the senate were crowded with men who followed every move with keen attention. The debate lasted little over an hour.

Fisher of Westford asked why it was necessary at this time to pass the legislation. Nobody responded. Then Fisher said that the title of the bill ought to be "An attempt to smother the adjutant-general from his office."

Alcock said that if Fisher didn't like the bill he ought to tell the senate why.

Ward of Buckland asked if those behind the bill did not purpose to, explain it to the senate.

Fits Militia Conditions

Burbank of East Bridgewater, a member of the committee on military affairs, then said that he had voted for the bill because it seemed to him right that the governor, as commander-in-chief of the militia, should have the right to choose his own adjutant-general. He said the two officials cannot work well together unless they work in harmony. He thought the bill fitted the militia conditions as they are today.

Fisher retorted that Burbank had showed that he knew nothing of military matters.

"The animus behind the matter is clearly indicated," he said. "The bill had its inception at a meeting of commanding officers of the militia at the Hotel Lenox, where the slogan was 'Fire Pearson.' The issue is not one of office for the adjutant-general, but it is one of going to smother the adjutant-general out of office. Are you going to crush General Pearson?"

"I am surprised to see the democratic of Massachusetts, founded on Thomas Jefferson's principle of fair play, take the position it does here."

"Why should you use the power of the legislature to destroy any man in office? I have too much red blood to stand up here and oppose an effort to destroy one of the best adjutant-generals this commonwealth ever had."

Caused Disapproval

"There was a murmur of disapproval in 1911, when General Pearson was chosen from the position of captain of a company. The commanding officers above him did not like it. I know because I served 12 years in the militia."

"Since Governor Foss told General Pearson three years ago to take full charge of the militia his efficiency has been steady."

ARMISTICE TO END WAR

RAIN ENDS VIOLENCE IN COLORADO STRIKE ZONE

Downpour Drove to Cover the Striking Miners Who Were Attacking Mine—Federal Troops
Arrive

DENVER, April 29.—Violence in the strike zones of Colorado came to an end shortly after midnight when a downpour of rain drove to cover striking miners who were attacking the Walsen mine near Walsenburg, the only point in Colorado where actual violence obtained and today dawned with the prospect of industrial peace between the warring industrial factions. Federal troops from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, arrived in Colorado early today and troops from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., were expected to reach the state before night. The soldiers from Wyoming went to Canon City and those from Kansas probably will go to Trinidad.

The situation in the northern district became quiet yesterday when the strikers ran out of ammunition. In official circles here and among the union leaders there was an expression of confidence in the federal troops' ability to control the situation. Governor Ammons, however, reiterated his determination not to withdraw any of the state troops from localities which will not be simply protected by the federal soldiers.

President Wilson's proclamation yesterday by virtue of which the federal troops were ordered into Colorado gives the strikers "ammunition" and others until tomorrow to return to their various abodes peacefully and to cease all acts of lawlessness.

Governor Ammons expressed great relief upon the arrival of the federal troops. Party leaders conferred here today relative to the organization of the special session of the legislature which convenes May 14th to act on the strike situation, its control and remedy.

Dys-pepsia immediately sweetens the stomach and greatly aids the digestion. A trial box costs only ten cents and a larger box only a quarter. They are not a strong alkali like soda salts, and no harm comes from their continued use.

Administration and Navy Dept. Ready for any Eventualities—Gen. Huerta
Releases all Foreign Prisoners—
Americans Maltreated in Mexico—
Armistice Asked of the United States and General Huerta

WASHINGTON, April 29.—An armistice in the difficulties between the United States and Mexico has been asked of this government and General Huerta by the South American envoys who have undertaken to avert war through mediation. Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil today notified Secretary Bryan that this had been determined upon as the next step in the negotiations and that General Huerta also had been notified.

The proposal for an armistice was communicated to President Wilson from the state department by telephone. Though no announcement has been made it is authoritatively learned that this government would accept the conditions provided assurances are given that in addition to a halt in military operations there would be no civil uprisings against American citizens or other "unlawful incidents which might prevent peace."

After an hour's conference today the mediation envoys, M. DaGama, M. Naon of Argentina and M. Suarez of Chile determined that the negotiations necessarily must proceed without warlike interference and Ambassador Da Gama went to the state department to acquaint Secretary Bryan of the course thus far taken of the peace plans. The Brazilian minister in Mexico City also was notified and he communicated the information to General Huerta. The communication addressed to both governments by the mediation envoys formally requests each government to declare an armistice. It was pointed out by officials here that in all probability the United States would accept the proposal notwithstanding the fact that this government has not recognized that a state of war in Mexico exists insofar as the operations of the United States are concerned.

No Reference to Rebels
The proposal for an armistice, it was learned, does not include any reference to the constitutionalists in Mexico, the United States and Huerta merely being called upon to cease active operations pending further mediation proposals. Under the armistice in accordance with international proceedings neither the Huerta government nor the United States would pursue in preparation for war. Plans for possible conflict would proceed but the armistice would prohibit actual hostilities in the field and any extension of military movement by either side. In Mexico people would be permitted to go where they pleased unmolested. It would simply establish a truce.

Officials expressed keen interest in unofficial reports from Berlin that the mediators had asked European powers to use influence on President Wilson that would prevent this government making conditions of settlement as mediation progresses which would make impossible the success that nothing was known of this action on the part of the envoys.

Following his visit to Secretary Bryan, Ambassador Da Gama returned to the Argentine legation, where the envoys resumed their conference. When this government would make answer to the armistice proposal was not indicated here.

Mediators Adjourned
When the mediators adjourned for their midday recess they would not discuss the armistice according to the statement could yet be made by them. They denied knowledge of the report from Berlin that the three mediators powers were using European powers to use their influence on President Wilson to have him agree to terms which might make settlement easy. They said the report had no more truth in it than many other speculative reports of their plans.

TO DROP OLD MEN

FROM THE FIRE DEPT.

Fire Underwriters May so Recommend After Thorough Inspection—Workmen's Compensation Hearing

The fire underwriters in their report, it was stated today, would recommend that a number of old men, members of the Lowell fire department, be retired for the good of the service.

With the exception of testing out the different fire engines the underwriters have completed their examination of the fire houses throughout the city. The houses were inspected by Mr. Meers and he was shown through by Chief Saunders.

"It was not a superficial inspection that Mr. Meers made," said Chief Saunders, "in conversation with a reporter for The Sun, today, 'and what he hasn't seen isn't worth seeing. He inspected the different houses from cellar to attic and went over the equipment thoroughly. All that remains to be done now is to test the engines and they will be attended to this week. The boiler in the Fourth street engine house was condemned by State Inspector Moore a short time ago and the engine is being supplied with a new boiler at the present time. The boiler is being built at the Scannell boiler works."

"After having completed his examination of the firehouses, Mr. Meers asked me to supply him with the ages of the firemen and the houses to which they are assigned. In going the rounds he remarked on the ages of some of the firemen and I rather anticipated that he will recommend the retirement of some of the men. I do not know, however, that any particular age limit has been established."

Quite a considerable number of the firemen are well along in years and they are a bit feeble. As commissioner of water works and fire department, last year, Andrew E. Barrett was heard to say that some of the older men in the fire department should be retired, and he believed it would be a paying investment for the city to retire them. The fact remains, however, that the city is fairly well burdened with pensions at the present time and any recommendation on the part of the fire underwriters for the pensioning of firemen would undoubtedly meet with some opposition.

Branch Street House

The lands and buildings department, under Commissioner James E. Donnelly, has finished with the Branch street firehouse for the repairing and renovation of which $2,000 was appropriated. Big improvements have been made and the painters are now adding the finishing touches. The repairs and alterations included the putting in of 12 individual sleeping rooms, two and shower baths, workshop and other things. The second floor of the Branch street house was used as a polling booth at one time, precinct one of ward three and it was reached by an outside stairs. The chances just completed included the removal of the stairs from the outside to the inside and this one change alone has added materially to the appearance of the building. The work of remodeling the Branch street house was begun last August.

Workmen's Compensation Act

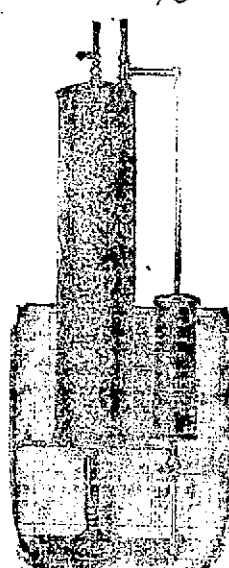

A hearing under the workmen's compensation act was held in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this forenoon. Elias Michalides was the petitioner who alleged that he was injured.

AMONG THE TOILERS

Henry, who is employed at the Talbot mills, has decided not to go to Mexico.

The president of the Nakhols club has issued a proclamation against the tango at their dance Friday night.

"Dick" Morrison who is employed as a weaver at the Bigelow Carpet company, has plans completed for a trip to Ireland in June.

Joseph Touhy, the well known carpet weaver and all round athlete, claims he knows how to fight as well as weave.

Daniel Roberts, a jolly weaver at the Bigelow Carpet company, has lost a wager on good looks to his rival George Star. To make good he must not shave for three weeks.

The many friends of Patrick Kearns will be pleased to learn that he has returned to work after being confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle. Mr. Kearns is a much respected weaver at the Bigelow Carpet company.

The clerks employed in the stores of Boston, N. H., after extensive deliberation, have concluded to perfect an organization with the purpose of changing the time of opening and closing of the various establishments in that town.

The "Violet club" held a most successful dance last night at Lincoln hall. The young ladies of this club are employed in the local mills and factories. They say that the little waitress in "Among the Toilers" helped

The employees of the Saco-Lowell shop will be given a holiday Saturday. The reason given out was to give all the men an opportunity to visit the textile exhibition in Boston. Free tickets will be given to the employees by the management. Members desiring these tickets should apply to the superintendent.

William "Hunker" Harrington, the well known member of the Plumbers' union, has accepted a job in Manchester, N. H. He was formerly employed in that city and his old boss couldn't get along without him. His old boss, Frank "Rube" Gookin, is working in Boston, where his services are always in demand.

There will be a chance for all mill employees to inspect Lowell's famous Textile school on May 6, which will be graduation day. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock, and all who can should avail themselves of this opportunity to go through the great institution of learning for, besides being interesting it will be instructive. Street Railway Men's Union. The Street Railway Men's union met in their hall in the Rutland building last night and business of importance was transacted. The secretary's report showed progress and the financial condition on a sound basis. Plans for a complimentary party to their many friends, particularly those who assisted in the recent Saunders contest, were made, and the affair promised to be a success. Continued to page three

Succeeds in Having Adj.-Gen. Pearson Ousted—Sen. Fisher Led Fight Against Governor

The bill which gives Governor Walsh the right to oust Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson and appoint his successor went through the senate yesterday afternoon to a third reading, by a vote of 23 to 17. Senator Edward Fisher led the fight against the bill.

The measure will immediately be put through its other stages and sent to the governor for his approval. Mr.

ises to be a great success.

Carpenters' Fight

The Carpenters' union, local 42, met in Carpenters hall in the Ramble building, last evening, with President Joe E. Sears in the chair. Business of considerable importance was transacted. Five new members were admitted. A communication was read from Mr. Wilson, the head of a big contracting firm in Boston, asking for a dozen men in a hurry, but this local cannot supply the demand, or others that they have received because all the members are steadily employed here in Lowell.

The carpenters are much pleased with the space afforded them in Tuesday night's "Sun" and say that this paper has one of the best labor pages in this state.

Labor News from Boston

The Barbers' union has voted to seek a new agreement with their employers. Better wages and shorter hours will be asked. The four unions of bookbinders in the greater Boston district are discussing amalgamation. Sentiment seems to favor the plan. The New England Electrical Workers' district council has ordered its affiliate to insist on the enforcement of all inspection laws. The appalling loss of life and property, because of inefficient electrical installation, insulation and inspection, urged the delegates to action. Protests by the Electrical Teamsters and Helpers' union against violations of the eight-hour law are bringing results. The state board of industry and labor has filed complaints in court against several firms. At the last meeting of Steam and Operating Engineers' union 95 applicants were admitted. Printing Pressmen's union, No. 67, has decided to launch an organizing campaign. The Lumber Teamsters and Handlers' union is conferring with their employers on a new wage scale. Machinists' union, No. 264, has established a sick benefit fund. Benefits will be paid for ten weeks and longer for certain forms of extended illness. Steamfitters and Helpers' union affiliated to the Plumbers' International will ask a minimum wage scale of $5 a day for mechanics and $8 a day for helpers after June 1. Elevator Operators' union has succeeded in making their new scale universal except in two instances.

ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

All Over Face, Arms and Hands—Would Walk the Floor All Night

Dec. 5, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on me when I was but 13 years old and am now 34, and have suffered all these years. It started with small pimples all over my face, arms and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them. I was almost blind. I would keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I could not sleep at all—just walked the floor a whole night.

"I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me a great relief after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Ointment, and three cakes of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mr. H. E. Fleeger, Box 12, Danville, Pa.

mand of the employees of the Middlesex and Boston road for an increase in wages.

At a recent session of the arbitration board, Arthur M. Huddell of the Boston trades council presented wage tables showing that mechanics and artisans employed within a radius of fifty miles of Boston receive from thirty to fifty per cent. more pay than do the employees of the Middlesex & Boston company, and work on an average of nine or ten months a year.

Among the interests at the hearing was Thomas Houlahan, barn-man at the Natick car barn.

Houlahan testified that it was his duty to examine the cars at the Natick barn for defects and to make repairs. He said that upon the barn men depends the life or death of the passengers although the public does not appreciate this fact. If anything goes wrong with a car while it is out on the track the barnmen are asked why they did not discover the defect. The barn men have to understand equipment of the cars. He described in detail his work in the car barn and said that he had to do much heavy lifting. He does some blacksmithing, some carpenter work and some machine work.

Houlahan said that the condition this winter had made the work in the pits under the cars very bad. Cars would come into the barn with the bottom badly torn up and just as soon as they would be run over the pits the snow and ice would begin to melt. He said he would have to work in the pits with the melting snow and ice dripping on them and forming a pool six inches deep at the bottom of the pit. They could not wear rubber boots because their movements would be hampered. Sometimes when they were wet through from working under the cars the barnmen would be called to go out on the line to make temporary repairs on cars which had broken down or to get detailed cars back on the tracks. The witness said that he had come out from the car barn and worked for three-quarters of an hour under a car in the snow without any overcoat or gloves on. He could not wear any overcoat or gloves because he would be hampered.

The witness said that the work was becoming harder to perform. One of the tanks which he and other employees are called upon to do is to take structures out of the motors and repair them and put them back. These structures weigh seven hundred pounds and sometimes fall, injuring the workmen. He said that he had always been the object of the men at the Natick car barn to do their best for the company. He works ten hours a day and the grind is steady from the time he goes to work at seven o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the afternoon when it lets up. Mr. Houlahan said that he had been in the employ of the company for eight years and that he takes a vacation every summer because he believes it to be better policy to take a vacation even with loss of pay than to pay medical bills. He said that he has spent in the employ of the company has been wasted because he is not any farther ahead now than when he started. If he had gone to work in some other line he would have been receiving more pay than he does now.

In speaking of his experiences this winter in repairing crippled cars on the road Mr. Houlahan said that it was not the motorman or the conductor or the superintendent who straightened out matters when a car broke down on the road but it was the barn man.

Armed Open Revolt

It is more important than the great strikes of 1878 and more important than the railroad strike of 1892. It is the deliberate, organized resistance of an entire state and of the entire United States, for that matter, by an international labor union operating through not more than 15,000 men.

It is not passive resistance, but armed open revolt against conditions. The entire state militia of Colorado has been defied, the rights of private property have been forgotten and even the mandates of the federal courts have been ignored.

Men have declared openly that they will die and take their families to death with them rather than yield. They have been burned, dynamited, killed in the face of machine guns and modern rifles. They have included a

OPEN SEASON TOMORROW

Game Scheduled for Haverhill
Grounds Transferred — "Snub-
ber" Thomas Arrives

With the Haverhill ball club in the lobby of a local hotel awaiting the commencement of hostilities and part of the local team already dressed for the parade which was to have preceded the trip to Spalding park, a heavy shower at noon today caused Manager Gray to announce that the Lowell-Haverhill New England league opening game had been postponed. The rain gave no indications of letting up when the management made its decision. The calling off of the game was a disappointment to management, players and fans alike. All the preparations had been completed for a gala day and the interference of the weather man was heartily deplored.

Opening Game Tomorrow

The opener of the New England league for its 1914 season in this city will be held here tomorrow under exactly the same conditions that were scheduled to prevail today. The league schedule calls for a game in Haverhill tomorrow but Manager Gray has prevailed upon Dan Cloney to transfer it to this city.

In all probability Daniel realized that his park would be pretty muddy and that it would be practically an impossibility for him to pull off the game down there. Nevertheless he fully appreciated the fact that we are to have the game here tomorrow regardless of the reasons which prompted the transfer.

The local management has announced that Ladies' day will prevail tomorrow. Although Wednesday is usually the day on which the fair sex is recognized at the grand stand box office, the rain today and subsequent postponement of the game will give them the same opportunity tomorrow.

Joe Wood Will Be Here

"Smoky" Joe Wood, the renowned heavy of the Red Sox telephoned Gray this afternoon to learn about the game.

When he heard that it was postponed until tomorrow he informed the local manager that he would be on hand with an auto load of friends. Heine Wagner will also be in the box reserved for the Boston party.

Baseball Not Dead in Lowell

If the large number of telephone calls, which came in at the baseball office this morning asking for particulars about the game, are any criterion on which to base an opinion, interest in the great national game has not died out in Lowell by any means. Asst. Secretary Jack Kelley was a very busy personage, for the tinkle of the telephone sounded every few minutes during the entire morning.

Cloney Greatly "Put Out"

The genial Daniel was not in a pleasant mood when he learned the inevitable action of Manager Gray. Of course Haverhill received their $40 rain guarantee which is forthcoming whenever a visiting team is held up on account of inclement weather but $40 did not pacify Cloney by any means. His opening exhibition game down in Haverhill at which more than 1200 fans paid admission had whetted his appetite for a good fat bag of money today and he could not be reconciled.

Some Formalities to Be Observed. The preparations made for today's opener will be carried out without a change whenever the Champions get a fair day to play at home. Band parade and all the other formalities which are scheduled for today will take place just the same on the first home appearance of the club.

Manager Gray Unfortunate

Manager Gray has been very unfortunate this year on account of the poor weather conditions which have existed during the two weeks in which his terms have been at work. Only two good days have been enjoyed by him and it was well nigh impossible to get a line on just what the players of unknown calibre could do.

HARVARD WAS SWAMPED

CHAMPIONS HANDLED OUT 10-0 DE-FEAT TO HARVARD SECOND TEAM

With Pete Wood and "Texas" Lohman working like machines in the box yesterday afternoon the Lowell club defeated the second team of Harvard university by the overwhelming score of 10 to 0. Only three safeties were gathered off the Lowell pitchers while the Champions hit the two colossal boxmen for 11 safe blows. Lowell had a perfect fielding slate.

This was the first time that the Lowell club has entered a contest this year with an outfield in charge of the for pastures. Stimpson, Pottelger and Mathewson were in the lineup yesterday and the difference in the outfield was plainly noticeable.

Pottelger's one hand catch in centre was the fielding feature of the game and this player, with Kelley, also carried off the batting honors. Kelley batted out a double and two singles while "Dutch" came to the front with a double and one single. The score:

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

It has certainly been a tough day for the New England league opening. Last year it was pleasant enough but the cold weather made attendance at a ball game only an undertaking for a hardy individual. The Lowell management has been unlucky in its weather drawings of the past two seasons.

The Textile Show, which will be run off Friday night, is looked forward to with great expectations by the athletes of the Moody street institution. The receipts of the entertainment will be used as an athletic fund and can be drawn upon any time to help out the exchequer of the athletic association of the school. The boys interested in any branch of athletic are all booming the coming show, and it is certain to be a big success.

The Lowell outfield yesterday acquitted itself in fine style. Taken as a whole the outfield went to bat twelve times, made four hits for a total of seven, scored three runs, accepted three chances, and had no errors. No, the outlook doesn't look bad at all.

Joe Flannery looks to be in fine shape and says that he never was in the condition for playing last fall that he is today. Joe is a scrappy infielder and may make them all sit up and take notice before many games have passed into history.

Walter Johnson was forced to acknowledge defeat again yesterday when Connie Mack's gangsters got off his delivery. The great slasher, however, was sent to doct more by errors behind him than by his inability to fool batters. Four hits was all that the Athletics could find him for.

New London, the team picked by the majority of experts as the most likely to pull off the Eastern association pennant race, went down in the dust yesterday in their opening game with Pittsburg. New London is one of the greatest baseball towns in the country. Stores, saloons, milk and other places of industry closed their doors for a holiday yesterday and over 7000 fans attended the game. A demonstration of this nature ought to shame some of the larger cities.

The New England inter-collegiate

Wood, 1 in 4 innings; off Fitzgibbons, 5 in 5 innings; Lohman, 2 in 5 innings. Sacrifice hits: Pottelger, Stimpson, Lohman. Stolen bases: Burke, Coolidge, Kelly 2, Dee 2, Carr, Barry. Left on bases: By Lowell 19, by Harvard 3. First base on balls: By Wood 1, by track and field games have once more been awarded to the Harvard Stadium track. The Harvard track is the greatest in the country and the selection was certainly the best that could have been made. The date for the meet has been fixed for May 22-23.

Thanks to the heavy hitting of Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford, the Detroit Tigers now lead the American league race. These two players have been directly responsible for enough games to land Hughie Jennings' club where it is today. The Athletics seem to have hit their stride at last, however, and from now on pull up a far better line of attack and defence than in their previous contests.

In the National league the Pittsburgh Pirates are on top, having lost only two games out of eleven played. The veteran, Hans Wagner, is still playing wonderful ball and yesterday landed on the ball for three solid smashes. Pittsburgh is faster this year than it has been for many seasons and McGraw of the Giants admits that the Pirates are the only club he fears.

The shutting out of Jimmy Patterson in his trial heat in the 100 yards at the Penn relay was a great surprise to everyone. Patterson is the college champion over the century and it was thought that he would give Drew a great tussle on pull up first place. It was perfectly apparent to all that saw him run that he was in poor condition.

The new ruling of the intercollegiate committee to the effect that five men will be placed in the future instead of four as heretofore, has made a change in the Harvard track imperative. The strathway will be broadened so that five hurdles may be set up. Work on this will not be begun until next summer. The new ruling will give a well balanced team a far better chance than in previous years.

Mahan showed yesterday in his work against the Bates college team that he is as much at home with the horsehide as he is with the pigskin. Mahan got a poor start on the southern trip of the Harvard team due to a sore arm. The great half-back promises to be a wonderful pitcher before he leaves the Crimson ranks.

Lohman 1, by Fitzgibbons 3, by McDonald 1. First base on errors: By Lowell 1. Hit by pitcher: Lohman, by McDonald. Struck out: By Wood 3, by Fitzgibbons 2, by McDonald 3, by Lohman 5. Wild pitch: By Fitzgibbons 1. Time: 1:45. Umpire, Roper.

Johnny Boyle and Kaye
Palitz Draw Over Ten
Round Route

Johnny Boyle, the fast stepping local lightweight, put up one of the most notable battles of his career last night at New London, Conn., when he boxed Kaye Palitz a ten round draw before one of the largest houses that ever attended a fist encounter in that city.

Although Boyle only received a draw many of the spectators thought that he was entitled to the verdict on account of his aggressiveness. His opponent outweighed him but the Lowell boy was after him at all times and forced the fighting until the final tap of the gong.

Palitz used a straight left to the face and jaw as his main stock in trade while the Lowell boxer waded in and did his damage with his well known left hook. Boyle's work was the cleaner cut of the two but his opponent seemed impervious to punishment. The closing round of the bout found both boxers on their feet and fighting hard.

In the other ten round bout Eddie Flynn of Lynn beat Yankee Evans. This affair went the limit, but the Lynn fighter had things his own way. Flynn has been seen many times in a local ring.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

New Mill Buildings Planned by
Appleton and Hamilton Companies—Recent Sales Reported

Lowell will have two large corporations undertaking large building operations in the near future, the Hamilton and Appleton Manufacturing companies both having completed plans for the erection of these structures which will add materially to the dignity of the city's real estate. No date has been set, however, by either corporation for the start of the new enterprises.

The Appleton company's new building will be used for a warehouse and will be erected on the same site now occupied by the old blue building on Revere street. It will be used as a warehouse.

Revere street is the short, narrow street which runs from Middlesex to Jackson streets. It is this location that A. G. Cumock, treasurer of the company, went to the city council upon.

It seems that the original width of the street when it was first laid out by the city's engineers was thirty feet. The last survey, however, probably through error, gave the width as forty feet.

The difference of ten feet in street width would necessarily mean a great deal to the company. There are no plans drawn up as yet for the proposed warehouse, but pencil sketches have been presented to the company's board of directors which will probably be carried out in the plans. These pencil sketches propose a culvert under the street. The coal pocket is to be put on one side of Revere street and the boiler rooms on the other, making some sort of an underground arrangement absolutely necessary.

With the street extending ten feet farther in width than was at first figured upon it can be readily seen that a large outlay over the original estimate would have to be made by the company if the forty feet width was to be accepted as the street's dimension.

The mill people are now waiting for the verdict of the city council on the matter. The petition, which was presented to that body last week, was taken under advisement and may not be acted upon for the next few weeks. Officials of the company seem to think that the council will place Revere street at its old width measurement, thirty feet, and in that case any that work will begin at once.

The old Blue building will be demolished and workmen kept busy on the job night and day until the new modern structure is completed. The warehouse will stand at least six stories in height and will be fireproof.

Hamilton Mfg. Co.
The Hamilton Manufacturing company will very soon build another addition to their plant along Jackson street as heretofore intimated in this paper. When their last new building was erected it was understood that only a third of the structure had been completed.

Plans for three separate mills were drawn up at the same time although only one of them was constructed. The company now intends to complete the second of these mills within the near future. It has not been decided when the third and last addition to the plant will be erected.

Sales By Hyam Brothers
A two-tenement dwelling house situated at 25-27 Viola street and owned by Arthur Gerst, was sold through the agency of Hyam Brothers, 37 Central street, to Frank Dodge of this city, the final papers being passed last Monday. 5000 feet of land goes with the place. The buyer brought the property both for a home and an investment. He will occupy one of the tenements.

A 7-room cottage house in North Billerica also changed hands this week through this same agency. This piece of property is situated at 7 Colson street and carries with it over 14,000 feet of land. The property was owned by Maud Stettin of Swampscott and the buyer is Mary E. Kingsley of North Billerica. The purchase was for investment.

Mortgagee Easier to Procure
Ready money for mortgages, which has been very short for some time past, has been easier to procure during the past few days. Walter E. Guyette, the Central block obtainer of mortgages, announces that loans, both large and small, are now obtainable on most real estate propositions.

Mr. Guyette has negotiations under way for the sale of a brick block located on upper Merrimack street, but as the final papers have not yet been passed the owner and proposed buyer are not mentioned. The block in question is used for stores on the ground floor while the upper stories are undivided into tenements.

R. H. Elliott, the Stevens street builder, has begun operations on the excavating and foundation of a two-tenement house on the easterly side of School street between Westford and Liberty streets. The plans call for a two and a half story dwelling finished in Colonial style. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of July and will then be placed on the market.

SOLD AT AUCTION

The Captain Caleb Philbrick estate numbered 339 Walker street was sold Friday afternoon by J. E. Conant & Co. in strict accordance with the advertisement, or promptly at 5 o'clock to the highest bona fide bidder. The sale certainly attracted all the attention it merited. There was an attendance of at least 35 and in this number were six individual bidders. The first bid for Lot One (the house and lot) was $2500 and from there by $50 stages it went to $2550 to Charles O. Hall. Lot Two, the adjoining lot, 40x 145 feet, was started at $500 and went by 10 stages to 1300, and was finally sold to the purchaser of the house for 13 1/2-40 per square foot. The total sale realized just $4250.

Sales By E. Gaston Campbell

The agency of E. Gaston Campbell, located in the Hilditch building, reports the sale of a 37 acre farm in East Braintree during the past week. The final papers were passed Monday.

Andrew G. Trites of this city was the buyer and the farm was owned and sold by Joseph W. Field who has occupied the place for many years. A seven room cottage house and large poultry preserve go with the estate.

Audover Street Home

The excavating is nearly completed on the building site chosen by Ernest G. Dumas for the location of his new home and part of the foundations have already been laid. The site lies just between the Smith and Vanden Berg streets and is one of the most beautiful spots in Braintree.

When completed the Dumas home will be a two story brick building. Percy Varnum is the contractor who has charge of the construction.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Plans are being made by Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56, K. of P. for the observance of Memorial day, and a meeting of committees representing all of the K. of P. lodges in the city will be held in the near future to make arrangements for a joint celebration.

Gala night will be observed on May 12 and the lodge will entertain 1). G. C. Joseph Harris of Lawrence and members of the Black Prince lodge, No. 26, of the down-river city. On that night the deputy will present prizes to the winners of the membership contest and the second rank will be worked on two pages. The sick committee made an encouraging report.

Stationary Firemen

Routine business only was transacted at this week's meeting of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, local 14, held in its hall at 32 Middle street. The investigating committee is working on several applications for membership and new members are being initiated at almost every meeting.

Spanish War Veterans

The members of General Ance camp, United Spanish War Veterans, have practically completed arrangements for the Memorial day celebration. The local military companies have been requested to furnish a squad each to make up the escort, which will be in command of Lieut. Thomas Doyle. The selection of the two buglers has been left to Capt. Walter Jeyes of Co. G,

Quarters of the Or-ganizationFine Musical Program
Presented — Dancing
Enjoyed

It was indeed a happy gathering that assembled in the well appointed quarters of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum last night, when the place was thrown open for the lady friends of the members of this popular organization, the event being one of those famous ladies' nights which have become very popular among both the members of the lyceum and their friends of the fair sex.

A very enjoyable program consisting of whist and dancing had been arranged by the committee in charge and no effort or time was spared to make the affair one of the most successful of its kind ever undertaken by the lyceum, and the work of the committee was highly praised.

At 7:30 o'clock the doors of the club rooms were thrown open and the guests were given a royal welcome. In less than one hour the various rooms of the organization were filled to their utmost, and it was figured that at least 150 ladies had honored the young men with their presence.

A free use of the pool tables and other game paraphernalia was extended the guests and it is safe to say that there was something doing for sometime. It was indeed a hard task to keep tabs on the women pool sharps, some of whom handled one cue as neatly as any pool expert, and they gave some of the boys a good run for their money. While some were enjoying the pool game others developed their muscles on the gymnasium apparatus, while again some played checkers and cards, and they all proved a happy lot. The entire membership of the lyceum served as a committee of reception and to their credit it may be said that their young guests were highly entertained.

Later in the evening a whist contest was started with John Flannery presiding and at the close of the match the result was announced with applause and cheers and the following were awarded handsome prizes: Paul McLaughlin and Cassio Randall, first

Sixth regiment.

For the banquet in the evening many distinguished men have been invited to attend, including the mayor and municipal council, Congressman John Jacob Rogers, Gen. Adolbert Ames and Philip Hendle, Lieut. Com. E. H. Scribner, Capt. White, Capt. Worthen and others.

Dancing was then started and continued till a seasonable hour to strains of sweet music furnished by McInerney's orchestra. The officers of the dance were as follows: John J. Ginnivan, general manager; John Quinn, assistant general manager; Patrick J. McGarrel, floor director; John Martin, assistant floor director, with a long list of aids.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: John O'Connor, chairman; Matthew Clark, Edward Hines, John Moody, Patrick J. McGarrel and John Flannery.

For Alleged Larceny of
Auto Fittings Con-

John J. Holian, of Revere, Mass., was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon charged with breaking, entering and larceny in the nighttime from the garage of Frank A. Casey on River street, Billerica. The defendant is accused of stealing tires, tubes, batteries, a fur coat, a light coat and several articles, the whole valued at $250. Holian entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until May 12 so that the police would have an opportunity to recover some of the articles.

Edward J. Shannon, secretary of Local 31, International Order of Bricklayers, was charged with the larceny of $120 from the funds of the union.

Edward J. Tierney appeared for the government and at his request the case was continued for one week.

John J. Smith, who paid a fine for drunkenness in police court yesterday was back in the docket when Clerk Trull called the roll this forenoon. Smith claimed that he did not touch liquor of any kind yesterday but had not completely recovered from his drunk of the previous day. He pleaded for another chance.

Judge Enright, that if he was allowed to go he would leave the city and not be found on the streets again. The defendant was placed on probation for six months and a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction was ordered. James A. Cunningham made his fourth appearance within a year for being unable to discontinue partaking of intoxicants but he was promised to turn over a new leaf and he was given a suspended sentence to the Lowell jail. Thomas Scollan was sent to jail for ten days for drunkenness.

OUR POPULATION

According to the latest census reports, Lowell has continued to increase consistently in population during the past few years, now numbering among its inhabitants over one hundred and eleven thousand persons. This indicates general prosperity because no city increases unless its industries and opportunities are such as to hold its citizenship and invite business and workers from other places. The immigration tide which affects all the industrial cities of New England in a greater or lesser degree has helped to swell the census returns and it is probable that this influence has done more to add to our population than any other. Luckily there is no reason for the city of Lowell to regret this, for our foreign-born people are prosperous, contented and law abiding.

It is less common for local congratulation, however, to see that though Lowell has increased in population to 111,000, it has lost its rank as the fourth city in the state being surpassed by New Bedford, the population of which now numbers 112,000. Fall River has 123,440, Cambridge 116,000, and Worcester 107,000. The chief increase in New Bedford is in its foreign-born population, which is drawn mainly from those races that come here in families or that bring their women and establish homes. In this respect Lowell suffers somewhat, but time will remove the obstacles that cause many of our foreign residents to live in male groups.

One considering this matter of population increase may be pardoned if he asks himself if Lowell realizes the importance of it and the additional problems which it puts up to the government and to the public. It is vastly more important that the city gain in the quality of its workers rather than in their quantity, but when once any set of rollers take up their position here it becomes the duty of the city to see that they become good Lowell citizens and the fathers of good citizens of the future. In housing, working conditions, respect for law and city regulations, political leanings, racial customs and characteristics there are many allied activities which the city cannot afford to neglect in dealing with its foreign citizens. Too often they are blamed for abuses which should be laid in justice at the door of those responsible for the conduct of public affairs. It is for us of the present to provide for the Lowell of the future with regard to the quantity and the quality of its residents.

MUNICIPAL EXPERTS

In the good old days before the popular conscience was over-sensitive and before such simple words as "economy" or "efficiency" were breathed in connection with city government, most of our municipalities had political regimes in which the actuating motives of the officials in charge seemed to be to look after their friends and to spend as much money as possible, keeping clear of dangerous political whirlpools. In those days the vaudeville theatre and moving picture houses had not made their appearance, so the people gladly paid the price of loose government, getting the return in the municipal show that kept the community interested and amused from one campaign to the other. Then new elements crept in. The people got their amusement elsewhere and they demanded that their representatives make at least a pretense of business. To this end the charters of all our leading cities underwent alterations and repairs until there were more variations than among Lincoln pickles.

But alas for popular trust! Governments changed in name but they did not always change in their methods. Sometimes the public got fooled a little bit; sometimes it got fooled quite a little more, but generally it got fooled to some extent. Not disheartened the people realized that city governments spend the money of the citizens, demanded more and more, and they are still demanding. Now they have got to the point where instead of demanding political regimes, or even "business" regimes, a great many of them demand that municipal government be a government of experts. In doing this, by the way, the public is not asking a whit too much.

There are still so many unimportant and powerful considerations surrounding political campaigns that the election of experts in the first place is an unrealistic dream, and it is likely to remain so for many years. Some of the leading cities of the country are doing the next best thing in choosing experts in municipal governments who are free from political alliances and are not responsible to any clique or clique for their election. The system is growing and it is probable that before long there will be few cities without their trained experts who will regard their duties as scientific rather than as political problems.

THE DRUNKARD

Whatever one may feel about the treatment accorded to the habitual drunkard under our present laws, it will seem unjustifiable that day after day miserable creatures devoid of character or will power are sentenced to long terms of imprisonment, merely to keep away from society, only to come back for a repetition of the same when their sentence ends. Frequently they have reached the state of moral degradation in which they are virtual slaves to their low craving for intoxicating drinks, and the idea of punishing them for what is more an affliction than a crime is moving daily more alien to those who look upon the question in a humane spirit. Recently the Massachusetts commission on drunkards has called for the attention of the legislature to the fact that the state and treated scientifically, but as yet the recommendations of the commission are not followed in any action of the legislature.

Recently the commission on ways and means reported favorably on a bill to admit persons arrested for drunkenness to hospitals, but they then took the contradictory position of reporting adversely on a bill to establish a state hospital for those suffering from delirium tremens, though the bill would seem to be one of the leading ones of the session. At the present time the commission has no adequate provision for this sort of information, and even though the new suggestions of treating delirium tremens as a disease rather than as a crime, such law are not adopted, a great deal of such that suggested seems very necessary.

SMALL LOAN BILL

The house a few days ago reported favorably on a bill regarding small loans which if it becomes law, will have a far reaching effect on many branches of business in this state. The bill would amend the loan act of 1909 so that in future "the sum of $10 a week of the weekly wages or salary of the debtor shall be exempt from such arrangement or order." Still more drastic is another clause which says: "No such arrangement or order shall be valid when made by a married man unless the written consent of his wife to the making thereof is attached thereto." Though the first exception might in some cases result in injustice to some legitimate lenders of the credit business, the second is not in any sense exaggerated, and the necessity for it is proved by the hardship which the habits of some thoughtless husbands and fathers impose on their unhappy families.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

PRESIDENT'S DEMANDS

Fall River News: On our part, it is said in Washington though not officially that the president will insist that Huerta shall be eliminated in order to a final settlement of the difficulty; that the settlement must include the constitutionalists and perhaps other factions opposed to Huerta; and probably a settlement of the situation created by our demand that "the authority of Gen. Huerta" furnish a suitable reparation for the indignity offered the American flag. A final settlement, the president believes, must include the establishment of constitutional government, with Huerta eliminated.

WAR

Newburyport Herald: Queen Elizabeth of Bulgaria has announced that her proposed visit to the United States will be cancelled if war between the United States and Mexico continues. The queen has doubtless seen quite enough of war during the past year or two. Its glamor must have quite departed from the Bulgarian mind.

COLORADO

Woonsocket Call: The truly terrible labor war that has been raging in Colorado should not be lost sight of because we are involved in a difficulty with Mexico. The Colorado affair is indeed a national affair in the most potent sense. There is civil war in which no cause for war is found. The barbarities reported are something more than incidents of a factional dispute; they are of the most revolting character, inspiring horror and pity.

ANOTHER CLEAN-UP

Meriden Journal: We hope that every front and back yard in the city will be thoroughly cleaned while this period is on and that it will be done so satisfactorily that there will not be one particle of rubbish to clutter up the premises anywhere in the city. It is a time of energy which is directed for this will be an example for next year and will eventually mean a clean-up job and wonders will be wrought each year.

PRESIDENT'S PROBLEM

Newport News: Of course, President Wilson is receiving daily hundreds of letters from citizens of the United States telling him how to handle the Mexican situation, and there is great variety in the advice given. Some think there has been too much waiting; others think there has not been enough. The president is in a position to say that a proclamation to the Mexican people would explain everything and put an end to the misunderstanding. The president has hardly time to read all the letters, and will not take all the advice given him. He would like to be president and must work out the crisis as he thinks best.

GOV. WALSH WINS

under which the tenure of office of the adjutant-general was made five years. It was formerly for only one year. General Pearson was appointed by Governor Foss.

When Walsh became governor he tried to name his own adjutant-general but found the two-year act in the way. The Mexican situation has greatly complicated the controversy and led to a prompt consideration of the bill.

When informed of the vote of the senate, General Pearson said: "I believe that the tenure of office act was a good law for the militia to protect it from politics. However, as the senate has passed it, I am glad that it is now a law. I shall ask that the measure be passed so as to be enacted and shall request that it be placed upon the retired list."

"The question of my position is not a matter of public interest. I was simply trying to place the militia in a condition for war service and trying to do my full duty to the state and the public. I have no idea who my successor will be, but I shall do everything possible to help him if he desires my services."

Walsh Has Two in Mind

Governor Walsh said he had no comment to make upon the senate vote. The governor said that he had two persons in mind for the position, but he had not communicated with either of them.

He added that the fact that a man is now an officer in the militia will not disqualify him, but that he will not name any man who has been prominent in the fight over the measure relating to Adjutant-General Pearson.

The state house corridors were crowded all day with partisans of each side of the controversy. Few bills this year have been subjected to the same amount of work.

During the debate the galleries and floor of the senate were crowded with men who followed every move with keen attention. The debate lasted little over an hour.

Fisher of Westford asked why it was necessary at this time to pass the legislation. Nobody responded. Then Fisher said that the title of the bill ought to be "An attempt to sandbag the adjutant-general from his office."

MacK said that if Fisher didn't like the bill he ought to tell the senate why.

Ward of Buckland asked if those behind the bill did not purpose to explain it to the senate.

Fits Militia Conditions

Durbank of East Bridgewater, a member of the committee on military affairs, then said that he had voted for the bill because it seemed to him right that the governor, as commander-in-chief of the militia, should have the right to choose his own adjutant-general. He said the two officials cannot work well together unless they are in harmony. He thought the bill fitted the militia conditions as they are today.

Fisher retorted that Durbank had showed that he knew nothing of military matters.

"The animus behind the matter is clearly indicated," he said. "The bill had its inception at a meeting of commanding officers of the militia at the Hotel Lenox, where the slogan was 'Fire Pearson.' The issue is not one of office for the adjutant-general, but it is one of going to sandbag the adjutant-general from his office. Are you going to endorse General Pearson? I am surprised to see the democracy of Massachusetts, founded on Thomas Jefferson's principle of fair play, take the position it does here."

"Why should you use the power of the legislature to destroy any man in office? I have too much red blood not to stand up here and oppose an effort to destroy one of the best adjutant-generals this commonwealth ever had."

NATIONAL LEAD COMPANY

178 MEN BURIED ALIVE

67 Rescued From Another Mine and 8 Bodies Recovered—Rescuers at Work in Eccles, W. Va.

ECCLES, W. Va., April 29.—Eight bodies have been recovered from shaft number six of the New River Collieries Co., which with shaft number five was wrecked by an explosion yesterday. Sixty-seven men were taken out alive. There are no more men in number six. One hundred and seventy-eight men are buried in number five and officers of the company expressed the opinion this morning that none would escape. A rescue party was dropped down shaft number five soon after eight o'clock and got within 129 feet of the bottom. There the progress of the cage was stopped by broken and twisted timbers and a heavy fall of earth. Work was begun clearing away the debris and it was thought the bottom could be reached this afternoon. No gas was detected on this level and mining experts expressed the belief the mine was not on fire.

54 HOURS OF WORK

Further Curtailment in Hours Will Cause Cut in Wages, Says Treas. Green of Pacific Mill

BOSTON, April 29.—"I for one believe that 54 hours of work in the week (nine hours a day) cannot possibly do anyone an injury—even most boys and girls of 14 and 15 years of age. I certainly think this weekly schedule of hours allows a good deal of time for other worthy pursuits. Any further curtailment in hours must inevitably stand in the way of an increase of weekly wages and the textile work in Massachusetts and New England to a whole new level. It is to work at least 54 hours a week and when conditions warrant secure an increase in wages rather than work for the same weekly wages and shorter hours. The present schedule of wages should be maintained but if the government seeks to impose a limit on the hours of labor must bear its fair share of the loss."

With this declaration, President E. F. Green, treasurer of the Pacific Mills of Lowell, Mass., addressed the members of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers at their 20th annual meeting today. The prospects of the cotton industry were emboldened to some extent by the new tariff but even more so by the sweeping proposals of labor legislation he said.

To Test Textile Fibres
Announcement that the Massachusetts Institute of Technology had agreed to cooperate with the manufacturers in establishing a laboratory for the testing of textile fibres, goods and supplies, was the most important feature of the report of the secretary, C. J. Woodberry.

The proposed laboratory in the new technology buildings at Cambridge is to deal with all textiles but the report pointed out the possibility for saving to the cotton industry in the fact that over $100,000 was paid for excess wool in the cotton crop of 1913.

Other subjects discussed by the secretary were the arrangement for joint census returns next year under the Members of the Mystic Nobles of Granada, Lowell branch, No. 68, attended the ladies' night of the Boston Caravan at Copley hall, Boston, last evening, where they were regally entertained by the members of the latter organization. Early in the evening a banquet was served after which an excellent cabaret show was given and this was followed by general dancing.

The Lowellites left on a special car which was attached to the 6:42 train and started for the return trip shortly before midnight. However, this trip was not as enjoyable as the first part of the evening as the engine became disabled the other side of Wilmington. Some of the passengers walked to Wilmington where they connected with a Lowell bound electric while others remained on the train and were held up until nearly 3 o'clock this morning.

MEXICAN SITUATION

U. S. READY FOR ANY EVENTUALITIES

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The administration and the navy department conferred today about plans to meet any eventualities in the Mexican situation but their movements were overshadowed by the interest evinced in the work of the representatives of the South American republics who are trying to straighten out the situation.

A report today that Carranza and Villa, the constitutional leaders, had agreed to remain neutral in dealings between Huerta and the American government so long as there was no invasion of their territory was an encouraging development. News that American Consul Schantz and 110 other Americans who had been detained at Aguascalientes had been released and had been released and were safe in Mexico City on their way to Vera Cruz was a relieving feature of a tense situation created by previous reports that citizens of the United States had been seized to be deported to the United States to arrive at Vera Cruz from the Huerta capital and special trains today were to pick up additional foreigners between Mexico City and the coast. The transport Hancock was sent from Vera Cruz to come to take away the released Americans.

Two clouds of conflict are expected here during the day. Chief Huerta made a trip into the number six workings after midnight this morning and found much debris. Efforts will be made to effect an entrance to number five shaft today.

News of the continued constitutional attack on Tampico was received at the navy department today. Rear Admiral Badier, however, thought there did not seem to be any serious attempt to take the city. He said the number of constitutionalists around was small and that they did not have any artillery.

The super dreadnought New York, flagship of the new special service squadron, took on coal at Hampton Roads yesterday and resumed her run for Mexican waters today. She carried some marines.

HUERTA TO RELEASE ALL FOREIGNERS

VERA CRUZ, April 29.—Commander Tweedie of the British cruiser Essex, who went to Mexico City several days ago to urge Huerta to release all foreigners held in the capital, returned here yesterday and reported that his mission had been successful.

President Huerta, Minister of War Riquelme and Foreign Minister Rojas assured Tweedie they would release all foreign prisoners and all American sailors. He said he would release all prisoners and that the trains on which they would go would not be provided with escorts.

The train on which Commander Tweedie came back to Vera Cruz packed up any hundred American refugees in various interior points where they were assembled at Soledad.

Frightful Experiences
These refugees, who came from the British, American and Canadian consulates, told a frightful story of their experiences. They were worn, dirty and tired from their flight. Women with babies in their arms and young girls carrying heavy bundles containing all their worldly goods, were the refugees from the station here in charge of agents from the American consulate. Many of the refugees are destitute and these were judged aboard the rescue steamer last night.

Commander Tweedie did not find it easy to convince Huerta and his cabinet of the necessity of releasing the British, American and Canadian sailors. Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister, was called into the conference. Carden also visited Foreign Minister Riquelme and left the foreign office that he was anxious.

General Huerta declared there was no reason for placing an escort on the refugees and in any case he did not wish to assume responsibility of the safety of passengers.

It was planned, according to Commander Tweedie, to start three trains from Mexico City last night.

Commander Tweedie brought assurances that the capital is quiet and the immediate danger from mobs appears gone.

Sixty-three members of the American colony in the state of Oaxaca were among the refugees who arrived here. They were held two days in Colorado, where they were well treated except for the fact that they were obliged to sleep on the floors of the barracks.

J. W. Elliott, a locomotive engineer, was in Vera Blanca, when news of the occupation of Vera Cruz reached him. With his wife and children he started for Colorado under guard of Mexican soldiers. Arrived there, the guards said they were hungry and demanded fifty pesos on the threat to turn the Elliott family over to a howling mob which surrounded the station and killed the family.

The money was paid and Elliott and his family were released. They were held for a few days in the barracks by the box. For six days they were kept in the barracks, during the first two of which crowds surrounded the place howling for their lives. On two occasions some of the mob forced their way into the barracks and had it not been for the efforts of the colonel and two other officers, Elliott and his family undoubtedly would have been killed.

Circulars containing the words "Kill the gringos" and urging the people to rise and massacre the prisoners were posted about Cordoba. It is estimated that the three relief trains which are to leave the capital last night would carry about 800 refugees.

Americans Killed
From Mexico City comes the report that one American was killed and a mob in front of the hotel Isabel a few days ago. His name is not known here.

F. H. Lemer, a ranch manager from Tuxtepec, whose home is in Omaha and who was on his way to Vera Cruz for a visit, was seized and held up by Terrera Blanca by federal soldiers at its closing up.

rest the women and children slept, the rest of us sleeping on the ground."

Three Trains of Refugees

The anxiety felt by those who have been imprisoned at Vera Cruz as to friends and relatives in the interior has been greatly relieved by the occurrence of yesterday which show that the Mexican authorities are permitting Americans to come down to the coast. Today the American colony here, which is growing steadily, settled down to await news from Puerto Mexico of the arrival of large train loads of refugees from Mexico City which the Huerta officials promised Commander Tweedie of the British Essex would be dispatched from the capital last night.

The route from the capital to Puerto Mexico is long and roundabout and it is not expected that the trains will reach the coast before next Friday. Rear Admiral Badier will have a vessel at Puerto Mexico to meet the refugees.

The refugee trains are filled to capacity and they probably will be in excess of 800 people will be transported to Puerto Mexico. It is impossible in Vera Cruz to determine how many Americans this would leave in the capital. William M. Canada, the American consul here, is endeavoring to obtain information along this line from the Brazilian minister at Mexico City to whom the affairs of the United States were entrusted when Charge Palmaris O'Shaughnessy left.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy and Arnold Shanklin, the American consul-general at Mexico City, who came out with him are still here awaiting orders.

Flood of Inquiries

The release by Gen. Huerta, the federal commander outside of Vera Cruz, of 100 outside of Vera Cruz, of the hundred refugees who were brought in from Soledad yesterday, has caused a flood of inquiries regarding the safety of this and the persons who have reached the coast and start for Galveston are received they are called to the state department at Washington.

Praise Commander Tweedie
The British refugees are enthusiastic about Commander Tweedie, who they determined to thank. They believe he saved them from a dreadful death or at least prolonged suffering. On being released from the penitentiary at Soledad where they had been confined, the prisoners were taken to the railroad track and handed over to a Mexican major who had no instructions as to what to do with them. A train was sent for them to the coast and they were taken to the coast.

After waiting hours in the blazing sun, Commander Tweedie's train steamed in sight, bound for Vera Cruz. Several refugees approached the British officer and to him related their plight.

You Should Worry
"You need not worry," Commander Tweedie answered. "This train will not leave this place without your permission." Commander Tweedie insisted to the Mexican officer that he be permitted to take the Americans with him to Vera Cruz and he refused to listen to the officer's protest that he had no authority in the matter. The federal officer finally capitulated and listened back to the city for instructions returning in an hour with permission for the Americans to depart.

Protected From Mob
The refugees also told of the gallant conduct of the Mexican military commander at Soledad and the mayor, who have every effort to protect the refugees from the mob in the street. On the night when the situation was especially serious the mayor dressed the citizens, urging them to be calm. The most effective work, however, was done by the commandant who seized several hundred of the most aggressive rioters and sent them to the federal penitentiary at Huerta's fortress. There was no further open display of hostility by the townspeople.

Rear Admiral Fletcher's experiment last night in granting the population of Vera Cruz the fullest measure of liberty to move about the streets apparently proved completely successful. The outlying districts which did no damage the city was perfectly tranquil.

COMPLETE AMNESTY
MEXICO CITY, April 29.—Dr. Ignacio Alcocer, minister of the interior has sent further messages to all state governors and to the Jefe Político in the territories urging them in the name of the president to push their efforts to persuade the rebel leaders to unite in defense of national integrity. Complete amnesty is promised the rebels.

The government has been compelled to take action against the retail dealers in foodstuffs. Prices have risen to an exorbitant figure and one shop was wrecked yesterday by indignant clients because of the high prices asked.

The government has published an official list of the prices of commodities and dealers exceeding these figures will be imprisoned.

DROP OLD MEN
Continued
Jured in an elevator in the Merrimack mills, May 1, 1913. Michaelides said there were several large packing boxes in the elevator at the time and that one of the boxes fell on him with the result that he was injured internally. It was stated that the full extent of his injuries did not become manifest until three months later. The petitioner lives in the rear of 383 Suffolk street. The insurance company is the American Mutual Liability Insurance company and the committee on arbitration, today, was David T. Dickenson, chairman; John J. Davine for the insurance company; Fisher H. Pearson was counsel for the employee and J. J. Kenney of Boston, for the insurance company.

Making Big Improvements
If you drop in at city hall within the next day or two just take a slant at the assessors' office and remember how it looks. Then take a peek about three weeks from now and note the change. Carpenters from the lands and buildings department invaded the assessors' office this morning and for a time the assessors thought that Mr. Brown was under their again. The changes to be made to the street counter and the putting in of a circular counter. The assessors' private office will be enlarged and long glass partitions will divide the main office.

Lots of Sewer Work

Commissioner Morse says there is lots of sewer work going on at the present time and that all of his sewer men are at work. The jobs now under way include the laying of 300 feet of sewer in Maryland avenue, off Stevens street. Twenty-five men are engaged on this job; 25 more are engaged in laying 500 feet in Laurel street; 30 more are laying 700 feet in Sawtelle place and there are three big gangs at work in Varnum avenue. Mr. Morse expects to complete the Varnum avenue job inside of a month. The sewer men have encountered very little trouble and the character of the soil is such as to make easy shoveling.

Clerks Are Displeased
The city hall clerks are not going to have Saturday afternoon off this summer. The matter was settled yesterday at a conference of the municipal council and they do not think Mr. Morse changed his mind rather abruptly. It was stated today that Mr. Morse had promised certain ones that he would favor the half holiday, but Charles, it is alleged, decided otherwise early in the conference. An order had been drafted with the idea of closing down all departments during the summer months on Saturday afternoons. The order was to have been presented at the meeting of the municipal council yesterday, but the idea of thought changed at the conference. It is understood, however, that the commissioners will exercise their own discretion in the matter of allowing members of their clerical forces to take a Saturday afternoon off, from time to time. It has been the custom for years past to close city hall on Saturday afternoons and in conversation with the writer this forenoon one of the clerks said: "Yes, there are the commissioners in this building. They don't think anything of spending hundreds of dollars on useless documents and other things, but it's awful. I believe when the clerks ask for a Saturday afternoon off. The good ship little for them."

SCHOOL BOARD DROPS LOCAL SCHOOL TEACHER

Asked Resignation of J. Joseph O'Donoghue of the Industrial School—No Choice for Principal of Edson School

Dr. Lambert and Mr. Simpson of the school board have found a man whom they consider fitted for principal of the Edson school, but they are not yet ready to divulge his name or to vote for him. They said so at last night's meeting of the school board. The board failed to elect a principal last night. Two ballots were taken. Mr. Joseph O'Donoghue was the first choice. Mr. Campbell and Thompson for Christopher Hagan. Messrs. Lambert and Simpson not voting. Mr. Campbell said he thought it was high time a principal was elected to that school and allowed that if the Edson school could get along without a master, other grammar schools in the city might do likewise.

The committee voted to drop J. Joseph O'Donoghue from the teaching staff of the Industrial school. This action was taken upon recommendation of the Industrial school committee and the state board of education. Mr. Campbell objected to the procedure. He asked Dr. Lambert if he had anything in black and white from the state board and Dr. Lambert replied that Principal Fisher of the Industrial school had received a letter. But Mr. Campbell said he was from Missouri and wanted to be shown.

Chairman Lambert called to order at 9:20 and the clerk read detailed reports of two previous meetings.

The chairman read a report of the committee on Industrial school recommending that J. Joseph O'Donoghue be dropped from the list of Industrial school teachers and that Maurice Buttrick, who has been substituting, be appointed a temporary teacher.

"If I remember rightly," said Mr. Campbell, "Mr. O'Donoghue is the same teacher who was granted a hearing last year after having been discharged or suspended."

Mr. Campbell put his remark in the form of a query and the chairman answered in the affirmative. The chairman also stated that the state board of education had objected to Mr. O'Donoghue's work and that Mr. Allen of the state board had written a letter to that effect.

"I would like to see a letter from the state board, stating that the board would not approve his work," said Mr. Campbell.

"Mr. Fisher of the Industrial school has the letter," said Dr. Lambert.

COTTON MANUFACTURERS

Matters of Interest to Textile Industry Discussed at the Annual Meeting in Boston Today

BOSTON, April 28.—Matters of vital interest to the textile manufacturing industry were discussed at the opening session of the annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers today. After being welcomed by Governor Walsh the delegates listened to an address by the president of the association, Edwin F. Greene, treasurer of the Pacific Mills. Papers dealing with the federal cotton manufacturing census, efficiency exporting, electric power and textile credits were read.

President Greene said in part: "As we survey the events of the past few months we are not over hopeful. A tariff bill was enacted last fall, the last provision of which, so far as textiles are concerned, went into effect Jan. 1 with the reduction of the duty on wool goods. This reduction was a serious one with the woolen and worsted mills of the country. What I fear most is that the full effect of the tariff has not been felt. The cotton manufacturers perhaps have not been seriously disturbed in most lines by direct competition from foreign manufacturers. However, on fine goods competition has been in evidence and yet the cotton manufacturers as a whole are not as alarmed as those in the other large branches of the textile industry. The prosperity of the cotton mills is dependent in a very large degree on the general business of the country and this seems likely to continue in a very satisfactory way unless some of the momentous questions that are now being discussed by congress and the inter-state commerce commission are decided wisely. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that the increase in freight rates demanded by the railroads is a necessary first step in the restoration of public confidence.

"One of the most serious problems which our manufacturers have to face is the labor problem. A mere shortening of hours will not accomplish what the wage earners themselves really seek. We all believe in higher wages for the textile workers. The present schedule of wages should be maintained, but if the government seeks to impose unjust and unfair burdens, labor must bear its fair share of the load. Any further curtailment in hours must inevitably stand in the way of an increase in weekly wages."

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald

A paper by former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, chairman of the foreign trade committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, on "The Export side of the textile industry," contained these comments: "Our cotton mills, especially in the New England district, are provided with good ports for export, but the New England section feels especially the difficulty of solving the future of her exports. But she has been able to export with increasing quantities the higher grade goods and there is no reason to believe that with her already efficient organization she will not be able to develop her labor so that she may have a greater degree of skill and be able to produce on a basis more and more favorable to meet the foreign manufacturer on export fields."

Later he came home on a short furlough. That he is anxious to go to the front and see real service, is plain from his letters. There is another Lowell boy in the same company, and he is Alfred S. Biquet, a former clerk at the J. F. McManis jewelry store in Merrimack street.

Another Lowell lad on route to Vera Cruz, is George Marchiondi, of 75 Bolton street, South Lowell. The young man is a marine aboard the U. S. S. "Albatross," which set sail from Charleston, S. C., last Thursday. He has completed three years ago and has seen considerable foreign service. This will be his third trip to Mexico. He has also seen service in the Philippine Islands and Cuba. A couple of weeks ago he came home on a furlough, but a week ago last Sunday he was ordered to his ship for the trip.

Mr. Marchiondi, on his last trip to this city, informed his parents that he will reenlist as soon as his present enlistment expires.

Mr. and Mrs. Prospero Simonetti, of 101 Staples street, this city, are proud of the fact that they have two sons now serving Uncle Sam. Edward J., aged 21 years and Alexander P., aged 19 years, the former being in the navy service, while the latter is in the army.

Edward J. Simonetti enlisted as an ordinary seaman on Dec. 21, 1910 and was assigned to the U. S. S. "Albatross." After two years' efficient service he was shipped to a man-of-war and arrived in Boston in June of the past year. Owing to his ability in the telephone business, which he studied thoroughly during the service, he was appointed telephone operator at the Charlestown navy yard. Later he was picked out among the recognized sharpshooters and assigned to the crew of sharpshooters on the U. S. S. "Albatross," now at sea.

Alexandre P. Simonetti is a member of Troop B, Fourth cavalry, now stationed at the Schenck barracks, Honolulu. He is a trumpeter for the troop and hopes to be sent to Mexico soon. He will also reenlist for three more years.

Again the name of another Lowell boy serving the country at Mexico comes to the front and that is Jesse P. Wheeler, chief machinist aboard the U. S. S. "Albatross." The young man is a former member of Co. C, M. V. 31, of this city and is favorably known in Lowell. For some time he worked at the Hamilton Mfg. Co. as machinist and always made his home with Mrs. Georgianna Foss, matron of the Faith Home, where he was taken when he was two years of age, after the death of his parents. His present enlistment will expire in June and it is his desire to reenlist.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perrault, of 75 Austin street have received word from their son, Joseph, who is in the United States army and stationed at Galveston, Tex., to the effect that his regiment was awaiting orders to transfer to Mexico. The young man is a former member of the Faith Home and is the best of health. He is serving a seven-year enlistment.

VIOLET GIRLS ANNUAL

HELD LAST EVENING IN LINCOLN

HALL ONE OF MOST SUCCESSFUL EVENTS IN CLUB'S HISTORY

One of the most enjoyable and successful dances that has taken place in this city during the present season was that of the Violet Club girls held last evening in Lincoln hall. Over 200 couples were present to take part in the festivity and if any failed to enter themselves, it was not the fault of the committee in charge as every little detail was well taken care of and a well prepared program was carried out. Shortly after 8 o'clock an excellent musical program was given by Alfred's orchestra after which dancing started and the most young people in attendance danced through the various measures of the waltz, two-step, schottische and many of the latest song numbers played by the forementioned musicians in a way that brought great applause from the onlookers. As the guests entered the hall they were presented handsome bouquets of the club. To the following officers, assisted by the other members of the club, is the unlimited success of the annual dance: General manager, Christine Manning; assistant general manager, Mrs. Heston; floor director, Elizabeth Latham; as-brother's residence and the journey to and from school, always on foot, must have been at times extremely wearisome. Add to this, the inconveniences which they had to contend with, owing to a lack of proper school equipment, and we have some idea of the privations which Brother Peter and his companions underwent one-half century ago.

His postulantship finished, he was assigned to St. John's parochial school in the eastern end of the city. Here he remained for five years, when he was changed to the school connected with the Cathedral of the Assumption, on Fourth avenue, where he remained until 1876.

In the latter year he was called to Baltimore to assist at St. Joseph's college, but recently purchased. We find him for the next four years in the vicinity of Baltimore. In 1880 he was one of four sent to establish an orphanage at West Troy, N. Y. The West Troy institution had to be relinquished after one year, and Brother Peter was again selected as a pioneer, this time to take over the Cathedral school in Richmond, Va., which, previous to this, had been taught by the diocesan clergy and seminarians. He remained in Richmond for four years, at the end of which time he was ordered to New England, being transferred to St. Patrick's school, Lowell. His sojourn here was also limited to four years, being then transferred to St. Mary's school, Lawrence. From 1888 to 1901, a period of 13 years, Brother Peter remained in Lawrence, and his name is, perhaps, more closely identified with the latter city than it is with any other place where he has been. His winning personality, his great interest in a host of real friends, while his zealous work in behalf of the children of the parish was the lasting gratitude of the local clergy.

In 1901, his superiors, justly thinking that his sterling religious character would act as an inspiration to the younger members of the order, called him to the mother house at Baltimore to act as assistant to the superior of the order. We find him later at St. Vincent's academy, Newport News, Va., then at St. Mary's Industrial school, Baltimore, where he had charge of the junior department, and finally at St. John's, where we trust he may be permitted to remain until he is called to his well merited reward.

Brother Peter's life has been an extremely useful one. His admirable tact in the management of young children has made him wonderfully successful in this department. His care of them did not merely confine itself to the inculcating of the three R's, but education with him has always been understood in its fullest sense. Personal habits of order and cleanliness have been traits which he has always demanded from his pupils. He can testify how successful he has been in obtaining desired results along these lines.

Not alone to the class room have Brother Peter's activities been confined. Energetic by nature, his leisure hours have always been spent in some work that would be of benefit to the community. The writer has often thought that a proper title under which he might be categorized would be "Apostle in Clothing." Even now, though nominally on the retired list, his days are spent in constant activity. Old age has not changed his naturally cheerful disposition. This quality, united with genuine simplicity of manners and deep piety, has endeared him to all who know him.

To conclude we may very aptly apply to him the words of the poet.

"To know him was to love him,
To name him was to praise him."

His life, from a worldly standpoint, has been eventful. His name will not be handed down to posterity as a maker of history; the names of but few spiritual men are; but among the members of his own religious family, his name will live as an incentive in years to come. Not to these alone, however, will his influence for good be restricted; the teachings and good example which he has given to others during 50 years, will continue to bear fruit long after he has passed to a better world.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

A crook's heroism has been made the excuse for many a "sol story," but "Through Fire to Fortune," while dealing with that element which may so easily be converted from paths to bathos, is a film with a happy ending which all are glad to see, because it is the natural one. This five-reel Latin masterpiece which will be shown for the first time at the Opera House, is a drama filled with intense moments and incidents of a dramatic quality which sends the vibratory emotion waves up and down the spinal columns of all and awakes the best stage, well acted, and well photographed, and a more thoroughly artistic production would be hard to find.

MRS. FISKE

A most refreshing contribution to the season's theatrical attractiveness will be found in Mrs. Fiske's presentation of "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," which is to be given at the Opera House on Saturday evening next. The play is a broad comedy with a vein of satire and in the title role provides Mrs. Fiske with a character not only unique and new to the stage, but one totally dissimilar to any other which has ever enlisted the affections of the leader of the American stage. There is nothing serious about Mrs. Harry James Smith's comedy, and it seems almost like an artistic holiday for Mrs. Fiske who plays the role with a zest and abandon that only a complete personal delight in it could dictate. She first appeared in the role of the social blunderer three years ago and has frequently done so since then, but her coming engagement will mark her first presentation of the ludicrous farce in Lowell.

KEITH'S THEATRE

The Six Kirkpatrick Sisters, appearing at the B. P. Keith theatre, this week, are of the distinctive English type, fair haired, blue eyed, lithe, is some husky. And yet, as just as distinctive as they are. The six are exceedingly versatile, playing on a variety of instruments and singing numbers of songs well. Their dressing will make numerous appeal to women who attend. Wilbur Mack and Nella Walker in "An Every Day Occurrence in Central Park," have the best conversational vehicle seen this season. The duo are well grounded and have all of the earmarks of education. Their patter is far removed from the usual sort. Altogether they constitute one of the real hits of the bill. "Traveling" a farce in which the Hopkins-Axtell company appear, has some new situations in it, and the Herbert-Germaine trio of comedy casters do a heart-stopping loop-the-loop flunk. The Harmony Girls, Chief Treadwell, Bechell and Cooper and the Pathe Weekly pictures constitute the remainder of the bill. "Phone 23."

land league baseball club will be the guests of the management of the Merrimack Square theatre at the "Baseball Night" tonight. The leaguers will occupy boxes. It is expected that all of the real baseball fans of the city will be present to make the occasion a most enjoyable one for all. The Merrimack Square theatre players will present "His Last Dollar," a wonderful race track drama in five parts which promises to score one of the biggest successes of the past few seasons. For the week commencing May 4 the offering will be "The Divorce Question," an intensely interesting drama that deals with the evils of divorce and shows the treatment of it by the Roman Catholic church. It has many strong scenes, all of which will be presented in the same pleasing manner that has marked the efforts of The Players in the past. Secure your seats in advance by telephoning 2052. It costs no more.

AT THE OWL THEATRE
Another big eight reel program will be given at the Owl today and tomorrow with a special Warner feature in three parts as the leading photo-play. "The Bogus Millionaire" tells of a thousand scheme that failed. It is a powerful drama, fine and well photographed, and a more thoroughly artistic production would be hard to find.

WAGNER DONE WITH GAME NEW HAVEN ROAD

RED SOX SHORTSTOP HAS PLAYED HIS LAST BIG LEAGUE CONTEST, SAYS NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 29.—Heine Wagner, star shortstop of the Boston Red Sox for many years, has played his last game of big league baseball. This became known yesterday when the Boston club arrived here for its series

Wagner is not with the club. He is at his home in New Rochelle suffering from an aggravated attack of rheumatism in his right forearm. This malady troubled Wagner during the winter ter and he went to Hot Springs, Ark., last February, in the hope that he would find relief. Instead of improving, however, the pain grew worse, and Wagner had his arm encased in a plaster cast. This cast was removed recently and he was referred to the New Haven system in the commission's New Haven investigation. Mr. Thorn described the deal which resulted in the sale of the franchises of these two roads to the New Haven for $8,500,000, and he admitted a conspiracy.

cently, but Wagner is still unable to raise his arm and the club has abandoned the hope that he ever will be able to play again.

Young Everett Scott, whose Red Sox obtained from the St. Paul club of the American association last fall, wearing Wagner's shoes $3.00 and President Lavin of the club thinks Scott will fill the bill permanently.

Lannin is well pleased with his team, despite its lowly position at present in the game.

"All we want now," said Mr. Lannin, yesterday, "is a high-class first baseman. Engle is doing the best he can, but he is not a first baseman and does not pretend to be, and consequently we are weak in that position."

It is reported in school circles that John E. Barr, master at the Washington grammar school, is slated for grammar master's position in the Boston schools. Mr. Barr took the Boston examination in January, and his name is said to be at the top of the list. It is known that an assistant superintendent from the Boston schools visited Mr. Barr a few days ago and the fact seems to have given wings to report that Mr. Barr will, sooner or later, accept a position as master at a grammar school in Boston.
